

Contents

Introduction

Jürgen Georg Backhaus, Günther Chaloupek, Hans Frambach 7

The Congress of Vienna. Vom Stein, Humboldt, Metternich, and the ‘Sattelzeit’

F. L. van Holthoon 11

The Congress of Vienna and the emerging rivalry between Austria and Prussia for hegemony in Central Europe

Günther Chaloupek 27

Prussian reform politicians (Hardenberg, Humboldt and Stein) and German economists at the time of the Congress of Vienna

Karl-Heinz Schmidt 51

History of economic thought in the early 19th century: How the state of knowledge influenced the German representatives at the Congress of Vienna

Hans Frambach 75

The negotiations of the great powers at the Congress of Vienna in light of the Saxon Crisis

Isabella Blank 99

The concert of Europe and the secession of the Belgian Netherlands

Robert W. J. Jansen 121

From merchants to freedom fighters: The Greek navy 1800-1830

Emmanouil M.L. Economou, Nicholas C. Kyriazis, Annita Prassa 141

At a breathtaking pace. Impacts of the Vienna Congress on the traffic systems in Württemberg and Baden in the nineteenth century Joachim Hennze	165
The impact of the Napoleonic wars on the economy of the Habsburg monarchy: state bankruptcy and currency reform in Austrian economic literature Günther Chaloupek	173
Concerning the forms and nature of national debt – The example of modernizing the Prussian financial system after the peace of Tilsit Hans Frambach	193
European crisis – the case of the “Kingdom of Westphalia” Hans Frambach	211
Economic depression after glorious victory – the Austrian economy in the post-Napoleonic era Günther Chaloupek	227
Metternich, the man who made Thonet Andries Nentjes	239