

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
1. In the Beginning	3
2. Father and Son	9
3. A Poet at Princeton	14
4. Echoes in the Wind	21
5. The Law of Nature	29
6. The Muse of Liberty	36
7. The Study of Nothing	45
8. Revolt into Revolution	54
9. What Is a Rebel?	62
10. The Mask of Beauty	79
11. Soldier and Seaman	92
12. A Prisoner of the British	105
13. God-Attending Star	116
14. The Fruits of Victory	124
15. The Poet as Postal Clerk	139
16. Captain Philip Freneau	146
17. Honeysuckle and Other Delusions	158
18. Neptune and Clio	168
19. Silken Bands—and Others	182
20. Triumvirate	197
21. The National Gazette	209
22. The Issue of Democracy	223
23. Open Up the Doors!	235
24. Old Friends and New Foes	246
25. Fever and Failure	262
26. Treaties and Traitors	275
27. The Time-Piece	286
28. Men and Porcupines	298
29. The Reign of Terror	316
30. The Turning of the Tide	335
31. Poets Are Paupers	350

32. Man Shall Be Free	367
33. Reap the Harvest	383
34. Way of All Flesh	394
35. The Old—and the New	404
36. The Book Is Finished	418
Appendices	433
Appendix A. Records of Deeds and Mortgages in the Hall of Records, Monmouth County, Freehold, New Jer- sey, p. 433
Appendix B. Legal Dockets of Action for Debts, p. 435
Bibliography	437
Published Sources, p. 437
Books and Articles, p. 437
Newspapers, p. 455
Manuscripts, Typescripts, and Miscellaneous Collections, p. 457
Index	461