

Contents

Introduction	1
General remarks	1
How to use this book.....	1
A Course material	3
A.1 Syllabus.....	3
A.2 The sessions	6
Session 1: General Introduction	7
Session 2: Sixteenth-century poetry (Spenser, Sidney, Shakespeare)	12
Session 3: Sixteenth-century prose (More, Lyly, Sidney)	18
Session 4: Sixteenth-century drama (Kyd and Marlowe)	20
Session 5: Seventeenth-century poetry (Donne / Metaphysical School, Cavalier and Restoration poets, Milton).....	21
Session 6: Seventeenth-century prose (Bunyan, Burton, Hobbes, Locke).....	31
Session 7: Seventeenth-century drama (Shakespeare).....	34
Session 8: Seventeenth-century drama (Jonson, Webster)	37
Session 9: Eighteenth-century poetry (Swift and Montagu, Pope)	39
Session 10: Eighteenth-century narrative art and fiction (Hogarth, Addison and Steele, Defoe)	43
Session 11: Eighteenth-century fiction (Swift).....	50
Session 12: Eighteenth-century fiction (Richardson and Fielding)	54
Session 13: Eighteenth-century fiction (Sterne, Gothic fiction)	59
Session 14: Eighteenth-century drama (Gay and Lillo).....	65
A.3 Suggestions for the composition of presentations	68
General remarks	68
A few caveats	69
Suggestions for each session	70
A.4 Topics for short papers and term papers.....	75
B Bibliography	76
B.1 British literature – Renaissance to Romanticism.
A short bibliographical guide	76
1.1 Bibliographies	76
1.2 Poetry	76
1.3 Prose.....	79
1.4 Drama.....	81
B.2 Further reading for each session.....	83

B.3	Academic websites and electronic resources.....	96
3.1	General.....	96
3.2	Collections of abbreviated texts and full texts.....	96
C	Tests	98
D	Glossary	104
D.1	Rhetorical figures.....	104
1.1	General remarks.....	104
1.2	Word figures (figurae verborum).....	105
1.3	Syntactic figures.....	106
1.4	Figures of similarity.....	107
D.2	Poetry analysis.....	109
2.1	Versification.....	109
2.2	Further technical terms in poetry analysis.....	111
D.3	Prose analysis: terms and concepts.....	116
D.4	Drama analysis: terms and concepts.....	123
D.5	Periods of British literature from the beginning until the twenty-first century.....	127