

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	2
CHAPTER I: The Microcosm of the Self: the dialectic in Donne's personal life	7
CHAPTER II: The Macrocosm: the dialect of external events Donne in relation to the poetry of his time	20 25
CHAPTER III: The Microcosm of the University the Scholastic Curriculum in sixteenth century Oxford the Aristotelian character of the curriculum the Dialectical character of the curriculum the Academic Disputation	33 35 39 47 53
CHAPTER IV: The Dialectic of Reality Disparate Experiences and new wholes 'The applied metaphysics of poetry': the metaphysical image The truth of reality in dialectical balance X Donne's vision of reality the Dialectic of the Sermons	59 64 68 80 89 99
CHAPTER V: The Dialectic of Soul and Body in the Love Poems theme of the interdependence of soul and body theme of mutual love	111 117 126
X CHAPTER VI: The Dialectic of Ultimate Reality in the Divine Poems	134
CONCLUSION	152
BIBLIOGRAPHY	159
INDEX	163