

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: A Five-Step Guided Tour of the Social Construction of Technology ix

1 The Sociology of Scientific Knowledge 1

- 1.1 The Early Years and the Edinburgh Strong Programme 1
- 1.2 The Bath School: Scientific Controversies and Tacit Knowledge 11
- 1.3 The Bath School: The Experimenter's Regress and the Externality of Observation 21
- 1.4 The Bath School: Methodological Relativism 37
- 1.5 Reflexivity 49

2 SSK at Large 55

- 2.1 The Golem Trilogy 55
- 2.2 Science Wars 61

3 Social Construction of Technology 73

- 3.1 An Integrated Program for Science and Technology 73
- 3.2 Relevant Social Groups, Interpretative Flexibility, Closure 83
- 3.3 Rethinking Users and Stabilization 88
- 3.4 Sellers and Testers (and Sociologists) 98
- 3.5 Materiality and the Nonhumans 109
- 3.6 Back to the Golem: SCOT and Politics 126

4 Other Entanglements 141

- 4.1 Selling Revisited 141
- 4.2 The Materiality of Sound 147
- 4.3 New Developments in STS: The Ontological Turn 161

References 169

Index 195