

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Problems of Knowledge and Freedom	I
The Discipline of Political Knowledge: Invention, Development, Crisis	6
Contexts: Intellectual History, Political Theory, and Romantic Studies	17
Cases of Romanticism	25

CONCEPTUAL ORIENTATIONS

1 Kant and the Revolutionary Settlement of Early Romanticism	33
Revolutions, Copernican and French	35
Prophetic History and Moral Terrorism: The Conflict of the Faculties	44
Independence from Experience: The a Priori Aporia	49

THE RHETORIC OF HURLY-BURLY INNOVATION

2 Burke and the Critique of Political Metaphysics	61
Hypotaxis: Burke's Speech on Fox's East India Bill	63
Paradox: Reflections on the Revolution in France	74
3 Wollstonecraft and the Vindication of Political Reason:
The Rights of Men	84
Ratiocinatio: Building Affection on Rational Grounds	85
Stale Tropes and Cold Rodomontade	92
Our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful	99
4 The Government of the Tongue:
Godwin's Linguistic Turns and the Artillery of Reason	104
The Power of Mere Proposition: Political Justice	106
Constructing a Form of Words: Political Justice	111
Resisting "Incroachment": Cursory Strictures	118

THE LITERATURE OF JUSTICE AND JUSTIFICATION

5	Coleridge and the Principles of Political Knowledge	129
	Hume and the Highest Problem of Philosophy	132
	Structures of Mind and Government: The Friend	140
	The Symptom of Empiricism	151
6	The State of Knowledge: Wordsworth's Political Prose	156
	Rational Resistance: A Letter to the Bishop of Llandaff	158
	The Limits of Experimental Philosophy: The Convention of Cintra	161
	Trying French Principles: Two Addresses to the Freeholders of Westmorland	168

POETRY AND POETICS OF THE EXCURSIVE
AND UNBOUND MIND

7	The Dwellers of the Dwelling: Wordsworth and the Poetry of Recompense	177
	Epistemic Hedonism: The 1802 Preface	178
	Tranquil and Troubled Pleasure: Home at Grasmere	182
	Building Social Freedom: The Excursion	193
	The Inner Citadel of the Spirit	198
8	P. B. Shelley and the Forms of Thought	203
	The Case for Skeptical Idealism	205
	Historical Epistemology: A Philosophical View of Reform	209
	The Atmosphere of Human Thought: Prometheus Unbound	218

Afterword 231

Notes 235

Bibliography 259

Index 273