

Foreword	V
Preface	VII
List of figures	XVII
List of tables	XIX
List of abbreviations.....	XXI
1 Introduction	1
1.1 Motivation	1
1.2 Research questions and contributions.....	4
1.3 Outline of study	7
2 Overview of literature and applicable theories	11
2.1 Selected literature reviews	11
2.1.1 The conceptual work of Pearce and Robbins (1993)	12
2.1.2 The survey of John (1993)	15
2.1.3 The meta-study by Pandit (2000).....	16
2.1.4 The literature overview by Eichner (2010)	17
2.1.5 The review by Trahms et al. (2013)	20
2.2 Selected empirical evidence.....	22
2.2.1 The study by Sudarsanam and Lai (2001).....	23
2.2.2 The study by Eichner (2010).....	26
2.2.3 The study by Hauschildt et al. (2006).....	29
2.3 Introduction of selected applicable theories.....	32
2.3.1 Contingency theory.....	32
2.3.2 Principal-agent theory	33
2.3.3 Resource-based view (RBV).....	35
2.3.4 Theory of gestalts	36

2.4	Introduction to selected family firm research	37
2.4.1	Definition of family firms	37
2.4.2	Selected studies on family firms in crisis and turnaround	38
2.4.3	Introduction of selected applicable theories for family firms	42
3	Theoretical framework.....	47
3.1	Basic research context	48
3.1.1	Five-stage crisis and restructuring model	49
3.1.2	Specifics within the crisis and turnaround process in Germany	51
3.1.3	Implications for the data collection process	56
3.2	Crisis	58
3.2.1	Definition of crisis and crisis stages	59
3.2.2	Crisis diagnosis	61
3.2.3	Crisis typology.....	63
3.3	Turnaround management.....	70
3.3.1	Turnaround plan.....	71
3.3.2	Process of turnaround management.....	71
3.3.3	Content of turnaround management	73
3.4	Result of turnaround management.....	74
3.4.1	Company perspective	75
3.4.2	Owner family perspective.....	76
3.5	Internal and external context	78
3.5.1	Internal context	79
3.5.2	External context	80
3.6	Summary.....	80
4	Conceptual model.....	83
4.1	Research criticism and modeling approach.....	85

4.2	Homogeneity of the research sample	89
4.3	Model of the turnaround result – company perspective	92
4.4	Model of the crisis	94
4.4.1	Operational crisis contribution factors (operational CCFs)	95
4.4.2	Managerial crisis contribution factors (managerial CCFs)	101
4.4.3	Portfolio crisis contribution factors (portfolio CCFs)	107
4.4.4	Financial crisis contribution factors (financial CCFs)	111
4.4.5	External crisis contribution factors (external CCFs)	113
4.4.6	Crisis context	117
4.4.7	Propositions for the model of crisis	120
4.5	Model of the turnaround management	122
4.5.1	Operational restructuring moves	125
4.5.2	Managerial restructuring moves	134
4.5.3	Portfolio restructuring moves	137
4.5.4	Financial restructuring moves	142
4.5.5	Turnaround management context	150
4.5.6	Propositions for the model of turnaround management	153
4.6	Model of internal and external context	155
4.6.1	Internal context	157
4.6.2	External context	170
4.6.3	Proposition for the model of internal and external context	171
4.7	Model of the turnaround result – owner family perspective	173
4.8	Variable operationalization	174
4.9	Summary	176
5	Sampling and descriptive results	179
5.1	Sample collection	179

5.1.1	Key parameters of the sample collection process.....	179
5.1.2	Operational conduct of the sampling process.....	181
5.1.3	Result of the sampling process.....	182
5.2	Results.....	184
5.2.1	Descriptive statistics.....	184
5.2.2	Correlations.....	208
5.2.3	Model simplification.....	210
6	Analysis of the turnaround performance.....	213
6.1	Statistical methodology.....	213
6.1.1	Introduction of the statistical approaches.....	214
6.1.2	Statistical power and sample size.....	217
6.1.3	Bootstrapping as robust method.....	218
6.2	Model of moderating effects.....	218
6.3	Approach I: Univariate regression.....	223
6.3.1	Univariate regression – crisis variables.....	225
6.3.2	Univariate regression – turnaround management variables.....	228
6.3.3	Univariate regression – context variables.....	230
6.3.4	Regression of the moderation effects.....	232
6.4	Approach II: Complete model.....	240
6.4.1	Methodology.....	240
6.4.2	Multicollinearity.....	241
6.4.3	Results of the complete model.....	243
6.5	Approach III: Partial models.....	245
6.5.1	Methodology.....	246
6.5.2	Results of the partial models.....	247
6.6	Approach IV: Simplified models.....	249

6.6.1	Methodology	249
6.6.2	Stepwise regression.....	250
6.6.3	Results of the simplified models.....	252
6.7	Discussion	254
6.7.1	Comparison of the modeling approaches	254
6.7.2	Comprehensive discussion of the results per variable	257
6.7.3	Conclusion	266
7	Archetypes of crisis and archetypes of turnaround	269
7.1	Clustering and segmentation in crisis and turnaround research.....	270
7.1.1	Classification of crisis.....	270
7.1.2	Classification of turnaround management.....	272
7.2	Statistical methodology.....	273
7.2.1	Clustering variables	274
7.2.2	Clustering algorithm	275
7.2.3	Number of clusters.....	276
7.2.4	Validating the clusters.....	276
7.3	Cluster analysis of crisis characteristics	277
7.4	Cluster analysis of turnaround management characteristics	284
7.5	Relations between crisis and turnaround clusters	289
7.6	Discussion	291
8	Impact of turnaround on family ownership and control.....	295
8.1	Definitions.....	298
8.2	Proposition development.....	300
8.3	Statistical methodology.....	304
8.4	Descriptive analysis of family role changes.....	306
8.5	Univariate analysis of the family role change	311

8.5.1	Analysis of family ownership change	311
8.5.2	Analysis of family control change.....	313
8.6	Crisis and turnaround archetypes and the family role change.....	318
8.6.1	Crisis-cluster-specific family role change	318
8.6.2	Turnaround-cluster-specific family role change	319
8.6.3	Combined effects of crisis and turnaround clusters	320
8.7	Discussion.....	324
9	Conclusions	329
9.1	Summary of key findings	329
9.2	Implications for managers, shareholders and stakeholders.....	336
9.2.1	Managers and shareholders	336
9.2.2	Family shareholders.....	338
9.2.3	Stakeholders, especially banks.....	339
9.3	Implications for future research	339
9.4	Limitations	341
	Appendix 1 – list of restructuring specialists.....	343
	Appendix 2 – questionnaire	345
	Appendix 3 – correlation tables	361
	References.....	393
