

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction: The Rhetorical Art of Robert Browning	i
PART I. THE SUBJECT'S ISOLATION	7
1. The Subjective Poet's Problem: Pauline and Paracelsus	10
2. The Subjective Poet's Failure: Sordello	22
3. The Search for an Objective Form: Pippa Passes and the Plays	40
PART II. THE OBJECTIVE WORLD	57
4. The Rhetoric of the Monologue	60
5. Rhetoric at the Aesthetic Stage	65
6. Rhetoric at the Ethical Stage	114
7. Rhetoric at the Religious Stage	164
PART III. THE UNION OF THE SUBJECT AND THE WORLD	235
8. Dialectical Irony: The Masks as Kaleidoscopes	237
9. Legal Rhetoric: Count Guido and the Advocates	258
10. The Rhetoric of Religion: Caponsacchi, Pompilia, and the Pope	278
Conclusion: The Dialectical Temper	308
Index	319