

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
Chapter
ONE      The Art of Landscape before Wordsworth	5
The Beginnings of Natural Style in English Gardening 5 • Italian Landscape Painting and the English Landscape Poets 8 • Le Jardin Anglais and the Controversy between the Brownists and the School of the Picturesque 16 • The Art of Scenic Travel 34 • The English School of Landscape Painting 48
TWO      Wordsworth and Landscape Painting	53
Wordsworth Becomes a Critic of Art 53 Constable and Wordsworth 64 • Turner and Wordsworth 86 • Wordsworth as Art Critic 88
THREE      Wordsworth and Landscape Gardening	91
Wordsworth's Principles of the Art of Landscape Gardening 91 • The Orchard Garden at Dove Cottage 101 • The Winter Garden at Coleorton Hall 111 • Rydal Mount 126 • Wordsworth as Garden Consultant and Public Benefactor 135
FOUR      Wordsworth and the Art of Scenic Travel	143
Wordsworth's Response to the Beauty of the Landscape 143 • Two Early Travel Poems: An Evening Walk and Descriptive Sketches 149

FOUR (cont.)

Wordsworth's Thralldom to the Picturesque 161
Wordsworth's Enthusiasm for the Scenic Shared by Dorothy and Coleridge; the Tour of Scotland, 1803 164 • A Guide to the Lakes and the Duddon Sonnets 174 • Poems of the Continental Tour, 1820; the Scottish Tour, 1831; the Isle of Man, 1833; Italy, 1837 188 • Wordsworth as Interpreter of Scenic Landscape 192

FIVE The Art of Landscape in Wordsworth's Poetry 198

"How Exquisitely the Individual Mind to the External World Is Fitted" 198 • Scenes which Impress Themselves upon the Eye and Are Shaped into Some Sort of Pictorial Composition 205
Scenes in which Pictorial Features are Blended or Translated to Establish the Poetic Mood 210
Scenes in which the Pictorial Essences of the Landscape are Drawn into a Heightened Poetic Unity 218 • Scenes which are Read as Symbols-Translucent of the Moral and Spiritual World 225
Scenes in which the Landscape Acts upon Man so that the Human Interest is Central 232

Retrospect and Conclusion 251

Notes 259

Index 275