

Table of contents

CHAPTER 1
Corpus-based approaches to Construction Grammar: Introduction		1
Jiyoung Yoon and Stefan Th. Gries
 Part I. Frequencies and probabilities
CHAPTER 2
A constructional perspective on conceptual constituency: Dutch postpositions or particles?		11
Maaïke Beliën
CHAPTER 3
Development and representation of Italian light- fare constructions		39
Valeria Quochi
CHAPTER 4
Constructions with subject vs. object experiencers in Spanish and Italian: A corpus-based approach		65
Victoria Vázquez Rozas and Viola G. Miglio
 Part II. Collostructional analysis
CHAPTER 5
Spanish constructions of directed motion – a quantitative study: Typological variation and framing strategy		105
Johan Pedersen
CHAPTER 6
A corpus-based study of infinitival and sentential complement constructions in Spanish		145
Jiyoung Yoon and Stefanie Wulff

CHAPTER 7
Sense-based and lexeme-based alternation biases in the Dutch dative alternation		165
Sarah Bernolet and Timothy Coleman
Part III. Multifactorial and multivariate analysis
CHAPTER 8
A multifactorial analysis of that /zero alternation: The diachronic development of the zero complementizer with think , guess and understand		201
C. Shank, K. Plevoets and J. Van Bogaert
CHAPTER 9
A geometric exemplar-based model of semantic structure: The Dutch causative construction with laten		241
Natalia Levshina
Index		263