

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: The Cognitive Humanities: Whence and Whither?	1
	Peter Garratt
Part 1	Theorizing the Embodied Mind	17
2	Enactive Perception and Fictional Worlds	19
	Merja Polvinen
3	The Opacity of Fictional Minds: Transparency, Interpretive Cognition and the Exceptionality Thesis	35
	Marco Bernini
4	'Un-Walling' the Wall: Embodiment and Viewpoint	55
	Barbara Dancygier
5	Textures of Thought: Theatricality, Performativity and the Extended/Enactive Debate	71
	Teemu Paavolainen

Part 2	Reading Culture	93
6	Extending the Renaissance Mind: ‘Look What Thy Memory Cannot Contain’ Miranda Anderson	95
7	‘Her Silence Flouts Me’: Stillness in The Taming of the Shrew Laura Seymour	113
8	From World to Worldview: An Energy Principle of Psychosocial Dynamics Michael Sinding	133
Part 3	Cognitive Futures	151
9	Bayesian Bodies: The Predictive Dimension of Embodied Cognition and Culture Karin Kukkonen	153
10	Emergences: Towards a Cognitive-Affective Model for Creativity in the Arts Nigel McLoughlin	169
11	Autism in the Wild: Bridging the Gap Between Experiment and Experience Nicola Shaughnessy and Melissa Trimmingham	191
12	Hardware, Software, Wetware: Cognitive Science and Biohacking in the Digital Humanities Matt Hayler	213
	Bibliography	231
	Index	253