

Contents

Acknowledgements	7
Teletext in Europe. An Introductory Guide to the Book Hilde Van den Bulck &amp; Hallvard Moe	9
PART 1: PERSPECTIVES	13
1 Why Media Researchers Don't Care About Teletext Hilde Van den Bulck &amp; Hallvard Moe	15
2 Is It Just Text? Raquel Meyers	31
3 What Is Teletext? A Phenomenological Description Lars Nyre	51
PART 2: CASES	67
4 Teletext in Flanders. A Medium Hiding in Plain Sight Hilde Van den Bulck	69
5 Back to the Future. What Teletext's Past Tells Us About the Future Relationship Between Public Service Media and Publishers in Switzerland Manuel Puppis, Samuel Studer &amp; Edzard Schade	89
6 The Old Reliable. Teletext as a Survivor of Digitalization of TV in Finland Marko Ala-Fossi	111
7 Super Teletext. A Social Shaping of Teletext as Locating Newness in a Media Convergence Future Pernilla Severson	131
8 The Icelandic Public Service Broadcaster RÚV's Teletext Service Textavarpið and Media Change Ole J. Mjøs	151
9 Freedom of Information and Divides in the Digital Age. Teletext and Internet Use in Norway Hallvard Moe	167

10 Teletext as a New Media Promoter in Croatia. Surviving War and Transition Mato Brautović &amp; Tena Perišin	187
11 The Italian Way to Teletext. The History, Structure and Role of Televideo Rai Luca Barra &amp; Gabriele Balbi	205
12 Teletext and Videotex in France. From Innovative Social Media to Objects of Cultural Memory Lyombe Eko	227
Postscript. Lessons from Analyses of a Forgotten Medium Hallvard Moe &amp; Hilde Van den Bulck	241
Authors' bios	246