

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
Preface	ix
List of contributors	xi

Introduction: text, life and saga	1
GÍSLI PÁLSSON, University of Iceland

Part I. The sources, their limits, and their interpretation

1. Some methodological considerations in connection with the study of the sagas	27
PREBEN MEULENGRACHT SØRENSEN, University of Aarhus
2. History and the sagas: the effect of nationalism	43
JESSE L. BYOCK, University of California, Los Angeles
3. From sagas to society: the case of Heimskringla	61
SVERRE BAGGE, University of Bergen

Part II. Individual, person, and emotion

4. From saga to personality: Sverris saga	77
AARON GUREVICH, Moscow University
5. Emotions and the sagas	89
WILLIAM IAN MILLER, University of Michigan

Part III. Myth, ideology, and social structure

6. Humor as a guide to social change: Bandamanna saga and heroic values	111
E. PAUL DURRENBERGER and JONATHAN WILCOX, University of Iowa
7. Þórgunna's testament: a myth for moral contemplation and social apathy	125
KNUT ODNER, University of Oslo
8. Inheritance, ideology, and literature: Hervarar saga ok Heiðreks	147
TORFI H. TULINIUS, University of Iceland

9. Laughter in Brennu-Njáls saga	161
JACQUES LE GOFF, École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales

Part IV. Politics and friendship

10. Goðar : democrats or despots?	167
ROSS SAMSON, Glasgow University
11. The medieval Icelandic outlaw: life-style, saga, and legend	189
FREDERIC AMORY, University of San Francisco, San Francisco
12. Friendship in the Icelandic Commonwealth	205
JÓN VIÐAR SIGURÐSSON, University of Bergen

Part V. Production and economics

13. Spinning goods and tales: market, subsistence and literary productions	217
JÓN HAUKUR INGIMUNDARSON, University of Arizona, Tucson
14. Social ideals and the concept of profit in thirteenth-century Iceland	231
HELGI ÞORLÁKSSON, University of Iceland

Part VI. Gender and sexuality

15. From libel to lament: male manifestations of love in Old Norse	247
JENNY JOCHENS, Towson State University
16. The theft of blood, the birth of men: cultural constructions of gender in medieval Iceland	265
ULI LINKE, Rutgers University
17. Servitude and sexuality in medieval Iceland	289
RUTH MAZO KARRAS, University of Pennsylvania

References	305
Index	329