

{ CONTENTS }

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: The Poetics of Everyday Life Since 1945	1
1. The Crisis of Attention, Everyday-Life Theory, and Contemporary Poetry	41
2. “Each Day So Different, Yet Still Alike”: James Schuyler and the Elusive Everyday	70
3. “The Tiny Invites Attention”: A. R. Ammons’s Quotidian Muse	110
4. Writing the Maternal Everyday: Bernadette Mayer and Her “Daughters”	156
5. “There is No Content Here, Only Dailiness”: Poetry as Critique of Everyday Life in Ron Silliman’s Ketjak	197
6. Everyday-Life Projects in Contemporary Poetry and Culture: Kenneth Goldsmith, Claudia Rankine, Brenda Coultas, Harryette Mullen, and More	229
Conclusion: Claudia Rankine’s Citizen and Beyond	272
Notes	279
Works Cited	323
Index	347