

Contents

Introduction: Spanish Women Writers and Spain's Civil War	1
ROBERTA JOHNSON AND MARYELLEN BIEDER
1 María Zambrano's Enduring Drama: Remembering the Spanish Civil War	15
SHIRLEY MANGINI
2 Living the War, Writing the War: Poetic Figuration in Mercè Rodoreda's La plaça del Diamant	35
MARYELLEN BIEDER
3 Spaces of Enclosure in Liberata Masoliver's Barcelona en llamas	52
LISA NALBONE
4 Hybrid Discourses and Double Voices: Re-evaluating the Spanish Civil War in Mercedes Salisachs's Novels	64
CHRISTINE ARKINSTALL
5 The Last Battle: Fuertes and the Politics of Emotion in Her Late Civil War Poems	83
REYES VILA-BELDA
6 The Theater of Maria Aurèlia Capmany and the Reverberations of Civil War (History, Censorship, Silence)	100
SHARON G. FELDMAN
7 Carmen Laforet's Inspiration for Nada (1945)	116
ISRAEL ROLÓN-BARADA
8 Carmen Martín Gaite's Concept of Ruins	129
ROBERTA JOHNSON

9 Novels as History Lessons in Ana María Matute's Primera memoria (1960) and Demonios familiares (2014): From Betrayal to Solidarity	144
SILVIA BERMÚDEZ
10 The Phantasm of Civil War in Josefina Aldecoa's Novelistic Trilogy	155
DAVID K. HERZBERGER
11 Impossible Neutrality: Civil War and Melodrama in Marina Mayoral's Novels	170
ROSALÍA CORNEJO-PARRIEGO
12 Montserrat Roig and the Civil War: Questions of Genre, Gender, and Authorial Presence	190
CATHERINE G. BELLVER
13 Family Documents, Analogy, and Reconciliation in the Works of Carme Riera	206
KATHRYN EVERLY
14 Dead Woman Walking: "Historical Memory," Trauma, and Adaptation in Dulce Chacón's La voz dormida	221
MICHAEL UGARTE
List of Contributors	235
Index	241