

CONTENTS

Preface	5
Introduction	7
1. Scope and Method	7
2. General Problems	9
3. Previous Research	11
I. Literary Theories	13
1. The Rise of Literary Nationalism	13
a) Independence of Foreign Influences	13
b) Use of Native American Material	16
2. Theories about Individual Technique	19
a) Passionate Eruption	20
b) Digressive Leisure	20
3. History and Fiction	21
a) Authentic Event	21
b) Claim of Fiction	22
c) Historical Character	22
II. Selection and Treatment of the Historical Material	26
1. The Mayflower Pilgrims of Plymouth	27
2. The Puritan Leaders of Boston	31
3. Minor Settlements	34
III. Attitude to Puritanism	39
1. Beginnings: McHenry to Cooper, 1820-1830	40
2. Climax: Lee to Motley, 1840-1850	47
3. Transition: Hawthorne to Thompson, 1850-1860	51
IV. The Puritan Figure	55
1. The Magistrate	58
2. The Minister	65
3. Women	81
4. The Deacon	85
5. The Merchant	88
6. Constables and Jailers	93
7. The Servant and the Slave	96
8. The Children	100

v. The Puritan Features	108
1. Piety and Resignation	110
2. Fanaticism and Bigotry	114
3. Intolerance and Persecution	120
4. Hypocrisy and Efficiency	124
5. Belief in Providence and Superstition	133
6. Discipline and Independence	141
Conclusion	149
Bibliography	155
Index	158