

Contents

List of abbreviations	page vii
Chronology	ix
Introduction	xiii
Bibliographical note	xxxv
Select bibliography	xxxix
Biographical note	xliii
Editorial note	li
Note on the translation	lii
Articles from the Pocket philosophical dictionary	i
Etats, gouvernements. States, governments	3
Guerre. War	7
Lois (Des). Laws	13
Patrie. Homeland	25
Articles from the Questions on the Encyclopaedia	31
Démocratie. Democracy	33
Economie. Economy	38
Gouvernement. Government	49
Homme. Man	63
Impôt. Tax	76
Politique. Politics	81
The A B C, or Dialogues between A B C, translated from the English by Mr Huet	85
First conversation. On Hobbes, Grotius and Montesquieu	87
Second conversation. On the soul	101

Contents

Third conversation. On whether man was born wicked and the child of the Devil	106
Fourth conversation. On natural law, and on curiosity	115
Fifth conversation. On the ways of losing and keeping one's freedom, and on theocracy	120
Sixth conversation. On three systems of government, and a thousand ancient errors	126
Seventh conversation. That modern Europe is better than ancient Europe	130
Eighth conversation. On physical serfdom	134
Ninth conversation. On the serfdom of minds	138
Tenth conversation. On religion	142
Eleventh conversation. On the code of war	149
Twelfth conversation. On the code of perfidy	159
Thirteenth conversation. On basic laws	164
Fourteenth conversation. That every state must be independent	168
Fifteenth conversation. On the best legislation	172
Sixteenth conversation. On abuses	175
Seventeenth conversation. On curious matters	179
Other writings
Republican ideas. By a member of a public body	195
Thoughts on public administration	212
The rights of men and the usurpations of others. Translated from the Italian	225
Commentary on the book On crimes and punishments , by a provincial lawyer	244
Dialogue between a philosopher and a comptroller-general of finance	280
Index	287