

Table of Contents

Preface xi

PART I

1	Locating American Literary "Establishments"	1
2	The Dynamics of Literary Politicking	17
3	The New York Literary Mob	39
4	Cultural Prosperity and Its Perils	61
5	The Forms and Functions of Literary Power	87
6	The Leverages of Collaboration	107
7	Literary Rule and Professional Violence	123
8	The Rule of Corruption and Repression	143
9	The Rationales of Suppression	165
10	The Literary-Industrial Complex	183
11	The Rules of Ignorance and Philistinism	215
12	Double Standards and Pseudo-Culture	237

PART II

13	New Literary Periodicals	261
14	Alternative Book Publishers	289
15	The Nature and Fortune of Newcomers	317
16	Young Writers in North America	337
17	The New Poetries	357
18	Innovations in Fictions, Dramas, Essays	381
19	The Possibility of Rejuvenation	401
20	What Is To Be Done	413
	Bibliographies	435
	Acknowledgments	467
	Index	469