

Contents

List of figures and tables	ix
Acknowledgements	x
About the authors and contributors	xii
Introduction	xiv
1. Pugilists, diggers and choreographers	1
2. Transforming the teaching of the transatlantic slave trade	15
3. The story of Timbuktu	33
4. Forgotten stories in the African American Civil Rights Movement	53
5. Teaching the history of apartheid in South Africa	77
6. Black British history: Is there any Black in the Union Jack?	97
7. British Somali history: Innovation in Black British history	117
8. Transforming Black history in teaching: Three case studies	137
8.1. Challenging historical fear and loathing: Black history instruction in the United States Jenice L. View	137
8.2. Student and teacher activism and the pursuit of justice in the history curriculum at George Mitchell School Martin Spafford	145
8.3. Case studies of history beyond the classroom: The South African history educational visit and Black History Month celebrations at St Mary's High School, Hendon, UK Michelle Hussain	150

9. Conclusions: The transformation of Black history in secondary schools	154
References	162
Index	172