

CONTENTS

	Preface	ix
	List of Illustrations	xi
	Introduction	I
1	The Colonial Subject as Subjugator: A Post-Colonial Reading of Bontekoe's Journal	11
2	The Parvenu as Subjugator: Colonial Connotations of the Short Novel De familie Kegge by Nicolaas Beets	37
3	Speaking and Silence of the 'Other': Parallels of Colonial and Female Subjugation in Multatuli's Novel Max Havelaar	63
4	A Novel of Hybridity: Louis Couperus's De stille kracht	101
5	Victory of the 'Other' over Colonial Power: Madelon Székely-Lulofs: Tjoet Nja Din	121
6	The Subjugation of Female Subjectivity: A Feminist Reading of Karel van de Woestijne's 'De zwijnen van Kirkè'	149
7	Beatrijs and her Younger Sisters: Narrative Structures in Fictions of Female Development	161
	Bibliography	189
	Index	196