

Contents

List of Figures	page vii
Acknowledgments	ix
List of Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	I
Explaining Anti-Imperialism and Third World Nationalism	12
1 Surveying the Crossroads of the World: Paris at the Intersection of Global Migrations	21
Flows (and Ebbs)	23
Mobility and Networks	32
Differential Legislations, Grouping, and Policing	44
2 Building Communities: Everyday Ethnicity and Popular Culture	56
Race, Ethnicity, and Naturalization	59
Food and Restaurants	67
Music and Language	75
3 Lovers, Husbands, Fathers, Workers and Soldiers: Private Life and Work	89
Intimate Relations, Children, and Marriage	91
Work and Pay	99
The Politics of Mutual Aid	108
4 Learning and Imparting Lessons in Anti-Imperialism: Students in the Latin Quarter	116
Students as Migrants	118
From May Fourth to May Thirtieth: The Chinese Work-Study Movement	122

	Harbingers of latinité : Latin American Students and their Organizations	127
	Challenging the Metropole from Inside: Vietnamese and North African Students	136
5	The Clearinghouse of World Politics: International Relations and Colonialism	149
	Wilsonianism and the Paris Peace Conference	151
	The Rif War, Syria, and China	158
	The Italian Invasion of Ethiopia	166
6	Communist Intermediaries: The French Left, the Comintern, and Anti-Imperialists	176
	A Strained Alliance	178
	The Intercolonial Union	187
	The League against Imperialism	199
7	A Revolutionary Lingua Franca: Anti-Imperialism, Civic Rights, and the Republican Ethos	216
	Weaving French Republicanism into Global Anti-Imperialism	220
	The Idiom of Disenchantment	230
	Everyday Practices of Republicanism	240
8	Vernacularizing Nationalism: An Outcome Foretold?	250
	What's in a Word? Contemporary Uses of the Term "Nationalism"	252
	The Ethno-Cultural Underpinnings of Anti-Imperialism	256
	Cosmopolitanism and Pan-Nationalisms	261
	Right-Wing Nationalism, Territorializations, and Sovereignty	269
	Conclusion	279
	Biographical Appendix	293
	Bibliography	311
	Index	337