

Contents

List of figures	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction
Contested views: the image in the first total war	1
SATISH PADIYAR, PHILIP SHAW AND PHILIPPA SIMPSON
PART 1
Cultures of participation	11
1 The territorial imaginary of the revolutionary and Napoleonic wars	13
KATIE HORNSTEIN
2 Beholder, beheaded: theatrics of the guillotine and the spectacle of rupture	25
STEPHANIE O'ROURKE
3 Smuggled silhouettes: opacity and transparency as visual strategies for negotiating royal sovereignty during the revolutionary and Napoleonic wars	40
ALLISON GOUDIE
4 Wargaming: visualizing conflict in French printed board games	56
RICHARD TAWS
5 Battle lines: drawing, lithography and the casualties of war	71
SUE WALKER

PART 2

War and the image 85

6 From the Nore: Turner at the mouth of the Thames 87

RICHARD JOHNS

7 Ghosts and heroes: Girodet and the Ossianic mode in post-revolutionary French art 102

EMMA BARKER

8 King Ferdinand's veto: Goya's The 2nd and 3rd of May 1808
as patriotic failures 120

SIMON LEE

9 "The most atrocious [acts] one may imagine": the so-called series of the French invasions and anti-French propaganda during the Peninsular war 137

FOTEINI VLACHOU

10 The comic view of Johnny Newcome's *Military Adventures 152

NEIL RAMSEY

PART 3

Cultures of commemoration 167

11 Reality effects: war, theater and re-enactment around 1800 169

GILLIAN RUSSELL

12 Ephemeral histories: social commemoration of the revolutionary and Napoleonic wars in the paper collections of Sarah Sophia Banks 183

ARLENE LEIS

13 Exhibiting the nation's navy: the foundation of the National Gallery of Naval Art, 1795–1845 200

CICELY ROBINSON

14 Picturing the battlefield of victory: document, drama, image 213

SUSAN L. SIEGFRIED

Notes on contributors 246

Index 249