

Contents

Preface	v
Acknowledgments	vii
1 Board Games as Educational Tools (No Kidding!)	1
My Story	2
Overview of Board Game History	4
Topics Not Covered in This Book	5
“Classic” Board Games Versus Educational Board Games	6
Educational Theories	8
Board Games in Education and the Curriculum	9
Play On!	12
2 Learning to Lose: Board Games, Social Science, and Early Educational Skills	15
Candy Land	20
Chutes and Ladders	28
Mouse Trap	36
3 Spell That Word! Board Games and Language Arts	43
Scrabble	46
Boggle	57
4 I Will Buy It! Board Games and Economics	67
Monopoly	70
Life	85
Pay Day	95
Other Board Games Based on Economic Principles	102

5 Who Done It? Where Is It? What Is It? Logic and Deductive Reasoning	105
Clue	109
Battleship	116
Mastermind	124
6 Capture and Conquer! Board Games and Strategy, Planning, and Negotiation	131
Risk	134
Stratego	145
Checkers	155
Sorry!	165
7 Out of the Blue! Board Games and Creative Thinking, Communication, and Expression	175
Scattergories	178
Pictionary	188
8 Einstein Played Board Games: Board Games and Advanced Game Theory and Mathematics	197
Game Theory	198
Chess	202
Math Skills Developed through Board Games	207
9 We Have a Winner! Conclusions and Observations	211
References and Resources	215
About the Author	223