

Contents

I. Foreground (Stage Center)	1
II. Backdrop: The United States in 1874	6
III. "The Postscript"—Amy in Childhood	18
IV. Sloughing Off the Swaddling Bands	37
V. Self-education of a Self-determined Debutante	50
VI. "Banting" Aboard a Dahabeah, "God of the Rising Moon"—and Disaster	67
VII. Amorphous Ambitions of a Literary Amateur, from the American Upper Class	73
VIII. The Advent of Ada Dwyer Russell	96
IX. Professional Poet at Last	111
X. Challenger of the Old and Champion of the New Poetry: "Amygism"	139
XI. The Road Taken	168
XII. Summer Incidents and Accidents: Portentous Shadows	197
XIII. Success Follows Success	206
XIV. Wartime Poet: Personal Catastrophes	221

xv.	“Amy Lowell, Leader of New Poetry”: The Show Must Go On	248
xvi.	“Two Speak Together”	273
xvii.	Active Invalid	295
xviii.	Act IV, Scene ii	315
xix.	“In Excelsis”	345
	A Selected Bibliography Including Sources of Background Material	359
	Index	363