

Contents

---

List of contributors	vii
Foreword by David J. Teece	xvii
Acknowledgments	xx
Introduction	1
Jerome S. Engel
1 What are Clusters of Innovation, how do they operate and why are they important?	5
Jerome S. Engel
PART I NORTH AMERICA
2 USA: Silicon Valley, the archetypal Cluster of Innovation	41
Jerome S. Engel and Florian Forster
PART II EUROPE
3 Germany: high-tech region Munich generating the next wave of scalable startups	95
Helmut Schönenberger
4 Belgium: building a digital Cluster of Innovation in the heart of Europe	120
Wim De Waele and Sven H. De Cleyn
5 Spain: creating ecologies of innovation in cities – the case of 22@Barcelona	141
Montserrat Pareja-Eastaway and Josep M. Piqué
6 United Kingdom: London's tech startup boom	160
Itxaso del-Palacio and Dave Chapman

PART III MIDDLE EAST

- 7 Israel: the technology industry as an economic growth engine
creating a nationwide Cluster of Innovation 187
Orna Berry and Daniel Wasserteil

PART IV ASIA

- 8 Japan: the university as a driver for innovation in response to two decades of economic depression 205
Shigeo Kagami
- 9 Taiwan: linkage-based Clusters of Innovation – the case of Taiwan's IT industry 222
Chao-Tung Wen and Jun-Ming Chen
- 10 China: emergence of an entrepreneurial economy in an uncertain environment 247
Virginia Trigo and Qin Lang

PART V LATIN AMERICA

- 11 Colombia and Mexico: innovation and entrepreneurship
as a new paradigm for regional development in Latin America 271
Carlos Scheel
- 12 Brazil: good governance in the tropics – the rise of the Porto
Digital Cluster of Innovation 296
Flavio Feferman

PART VI GLOBAL ENTITIES DIFFUSING INNOVATION

- 13 Intel Corporation: the role of a global enterprise in supporting regional entrepreneurship and innovation clusters 341
Manav Subodh
- 14 NCIIA: students as the vanguard in a geographically dispersed approach to stimulating science and technology innovation 359
Phil Weilerstein
- 15 Clusters of Innovation: final thoughts 378
Jerome S. Engel

- Index* 391