

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: Genres That Matter	xi
1 Television Genres as Cultural Categories	1
2 Before the Scandals—Genre Historiography and the Cultural History of the Quiz Show	29
3 From Saturday Morning to Around the Clock—The Industrial Practices of Television Cartoons	56
4 Audiences Talk Genres—Talk Shows and the Intersections of Taste and Identity	94
5 Policing Genres— Dragnet's Texts and Generic Contexts	121
6 Making Fun of Genres—The Politics of Parody and Genre Mixing in Soap and The Simpsons	153
Conclusion: Some Reflections on Reality Television	196
Notes	202
Appendices	228
Index	232