

Contents

Acknowledgements ..... v

Contributors ..... ix

SARAH FEKADU, HANNA STRAß-SENOL

Introduction ..... 1

I. THEORIZING WEATHER AND CLIMATE CHANGE

DIPESH CHAKRABARTY

Climate and Capital: On Conjoined Histories ..... 19

ROBERT STOCKHAMMER

Philology in the Anthropocene ..... 43

EVA HORN

Global Warming and the Rhetoric of Heat ..... 65

II. HISTORICIZING PERSPECTIVES

JOHANNES UNGELENK

The Climate of th' Isle: Shakespeare's Tempest ..... 85

OLIVER GRILL

Weather - or Not? Meteorology and the Art of Prediction in Humboldt's Kosmos and Stifter's Der Nachsommer ..... 101

SOLVEJG NITZKE

Creating "Klima" in a Changing World:
Weather and Environment in Peter Rosegger's Forest Fictions ..... 121

PATRICK RAMPONI

Nietzsche's Meteoropathy:
Weather, Sickness and the Globalization of 'Milieu' ..... 141

III. METHODS AND PERSPECTIVES

ALEXA WEIK VON MOSSNER

Sensing the Heat: Weather, Water, and Vulnerabilities in Paolo Bacigalupi's The Water Knife .....173

REINHARD HENNIG

Climate Change Denial in Literary Fiction:
Gert Nygårdshaug's 'Eco-Thriller' Chimera .....191

URS BÜTTNER

Nature Makes History: Narrating Nature in Gerhard Richter and Alexander Kluge's December .....217

IV. POSTCOLONIAL RESPONSES

ELIZABETH DELOUGHREY

The Sea is Rising:
Visualizing Climate Change in the Pacific Islands .....237

SARAH FEKADU

The North and the Desert:
Tayeb Salih's Poetics of the Anthropocene .....255

HANNA STRAß-SENL

Weather Phenomena in Linda Hogan's People of the Whale .....273