

Contents

Preface	ix
---------	----

PART ONE. CLUES TO THE AESTHETIC OF THE ARENA

Boxing
King of the Hill	3
Bullfighting
Homage to El Loco	37
Theatre
The Playwright as Critic	61
Film
Some Dirt in the Talk	89

PART TWO. HINTS TO THE AESTHETIC OF THE STUDY

One Literary Critique
Up the Family Tree	171
Four Prefaces
Deaths for the Ladies	198
The Short Fiction of Norman Mailer	204
The Saint and the Psychopath	209
The End of Obscenity	211
An Imaginary Interview	216
A One-Act Play
A Fragment from Vietnam	223
A Translation from Lorca
Lament for Ignacio Sánchez Mejías	236
An Interview
Excerpts from Playboy	243
A Speech
Accepting the National Book Award	254
Letters
To the New York Review of Books	257
To the Saturday Review	259
To the New York Times Book Review	261
Capsule Entertainments
An Appreciation of Henry Miller	262
An Appreciation of Cassius Clay	264
Two Oddments from Esquire	265
One Book Review
Rush to Judgment by Mark Lane	269

PART THREE. GRIPS ON THE AESTHETIC OF THE STREET

Black Power

Looking for the Meat and Potatoes	287
Contribution to a Partisan Review symposium on Black Power and a following exchange	305

White Politics

An Open Letter to Richard Nixon	317
An Instrument for the City	322
Two mayoralty speeches	338
At the Village Gate	338
To the Time-Life Staff	344

Acknowledgments	363
-----------------	-----