
CONTENTS

Preface xv

PART I FOUNDATIONS OF MODERN ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR 1

CHAPTER 1 ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR: A HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE 3

Goals of the Chapter 3

Organizational Behavior in Action 4

Classical Management Theory 12

Scientific Management 12 • Administrative Theory 15 • Bureaucracy
Advocates 16

Human Relations Theory 17

Modern Organizational Behavior Theory 22

A Systems Approach 24 • Other Characteristics 26

Summary 28 • Key Terms 29 • Review and Study Questions 29 • You
Just Can't Get Good Help Anymore 29 • The Pampered Workers 31 •
Self-Feedback Exercise: Identify Your Philosophy of Management 32

CHAPTER 2 BEHAVIORAL SCIENCE AND ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR 36

Goals of the Chapter 36

The Behavioral Sciences 37

Psychology 37 • Sociology 38 • Anthropology 39

Behavioral Science Research 42

Some Design Fundamentals 44 • Hallmarks of a Scientific Approach 45 •
Common Research Designs 46 • Choosing a Research Design 49 • Data
Collection 51 • Timing of Data Collection 56 • Ethics in Research 57

Conceptual Model For This Book 58

Individual Behavior 58 • Group Behavior 58 • Organizational Structure 59
• Organizational Processes 60 • Organizational Effectiveness 60

Summary 60 • Key Terms 61 • Review and Study Questions 62 • What,
No Lecture? 62 • Looking for the Cause 64 • Self-Feedback Exercise:
What Do You Know About Human Behavior? 66

<h2>PART II INDIVIDUAL BEHAVIOR IN ORGANIZATIONS 71</h2>

CHAPTER 3 PERSONALITY, PERCEPTION, AND ATTITUDES 73

Goals of the Chapter 73

The Nature of Individuals 74

Rational and Emotional Models 74 • Behavioristic and Humanistic Models
75 • Economic and Self-Actualizing Models 75 • Theory X and Theory Y
Models 76 • Comments on the Dualistic Theories 77

Personality 78

Factors Influencing Personality Development 79

Genetics 79 • Environment 80 • Cultural and Social Factors 81 • Life
Events 82

Personality and the Workplace 82

Perception 85

Perceptual Organization 85 • Factors Influencing Perception 86 • Factors
Creating Perceptual Difficulty 91 • The Attribution Process 93

Attitudes 94

Components of Attitudes 95 • Attitudes and Organizational Behavior 96

Summary 101 • Key Terms 102 • Review and Study Questions 102 • Anti-
Union Sentiment 103 • Publish or Perish 104 • Self-Feedback Exercise:
Insights To Your Own Personality 106

CHAPTER 4 LEARNING AND REINFORCEMENT THEORY 109

Goals of the Chapter 109

Learning 110

Learning Acquisition 111 • Classical Conditioning 113 • Operant Conditioning 113 • Learning Intervention Strategies 115

Reinforcement Schedules 119

Fixed-Ratio Schedule 120 • Fixed-Interval Schedule 120 • Variable-Ratio Schedule 120 • Variable-Interval Schedule 121 • Rules for Using Reinforcement Theory 121

Using Behavior Modification 122

Identification of Critical Behaviors 122 • Measurement of the Behaviors 124 • Functional Analysis of the Behaviors 125 • Development of an Intervention Strategy 125 • Evaluation and Monitoring of Performance Improvement 126

Results From Positive Reinforcement Programs 126

Emery Air Freight 127 • Michigan Bell-Operator Services 130 • General Electric 130 • Weyerhaeuser 131 • B. F. Goodrich Chemical 131 • A Large Hospital 132

Behavior Modification: Point-Counterpoint 132

Summary 135 • Key Terms 136 • Review and Study Questions 137 • No More Help 137 • A Mod Proposal 139 • Self-Feedback Exercise: How Effective Are You in Using Reinforcement Principles? 140

CHAPTER 5 THE MOTIVATION PROCESS 144

Goals of the Chapter 144

The Nature of Motivation 145

Frustration 146

Constructive Behavior 147 • Defensive Behavior 147

Approaches to Motivation 150

Psychological Approaches 150 • Managerial Approaches 151

Selected Content Theories of Motivation 152

Maslow's Need Hierarchy 152 • ERG Theory 155 • Need Achievement Theory 157 • Herzberg's Two-Factor Theory 160 • Comparison of Content Theories 164

Selected Process Theories of Motivation 165

Goal Setting 165 • Equity Theory 169 • Expectancy-Valence Theory 172 • Comparison of Process Theories 174

Summary 176 • Key Terms 177 • Review and Study Questions 178 • Strictly A Fixed Salary 178 • Betting On The Best Horses 180 • Self-Feedback Exercise: Identifying What Motivates You 181

Part II Comprehensive Cases 186

Tony's Dilemma 186

Career Progress 191

Down, Down, Down 198

PART III GROUP BEHAVIOR IN ORGANIZATIONS 205
--

CHAPTER 6 GROUP DIMENSIONS 207

Goals of the Chapter 207

What Is A Group? 208

Why Do People Join Groups? 210

Proximity, Interaction, and Influence 210 • Similarity 210 • Group Activities and Goals 211

Kinds of Groups 212

Functional Groups 212 • Task or Project Groups 213 • Interest and Friendship Groups 213 • Committee Organization 214

The Structural Components of Groups 217

Group Composition 217 • Norms 218 • Roles 221 • Status 224 • Cohesiveness 227 • Group Leadership 229

Group Development 230

Summary 231 • Key Terms 232 • Review and Study Questions 232 • Slow

Progress 233 • A Case of Uncertainty 235 • Self-Feedback Exercise:

You and Your Work Group 236

CHAPTER 7 GROUP DYNAMICS 243

Goals of the Chapter 243

The Individual and the Group 244

Individual Characteristics 244 • Fundamental Interpersonal Relations Orientation 246

Intragroup Behavior 247

Communication Networks 248 • Decision Making 251

Intergroup Behavior 262

Intergroup Power 266 • Power through Cooperation 269

Summary 270 • Key Terms 272 • Review and Study Questions 272 • The

Proposed Expansion 273 • Computer Fear 274 • Self-Feedback Exercise:

Risk Taking and You 275

CHAPTER 8 THE LEADERSHIP PROCESS 283

Goals of the Chapter 283

The Nature of Leadership 284

Leadership-Trait Theory 286

Leadership-Behavior Theory 288

Continuum of Leadership Behavior 289 • The Ohio State Studies 291 •

The Michigan Studies 294

Contingency-Determined Leadership Theory 295

Fiedler's Contingency Theory of Leadership Effectiveness 296 • Path-Goal

Theory 301 • Contingency Theory in Practice 304

An Integrative Model 306

Summary 308 • Key Terms 309 • Review and Study Questions 309 • Butt

Out 310 • A No-Nonsense Person 311 • Self-Feedback Exercise:

What Type of Leader Are You? 313

Part III Comprehensive Cases 317

Production Problems 317

A Revolutionary Proposal 324

Dave's Approach 331

PART IV ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE AND ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR 339CHAPTER 9 ORGANIZATIONAL DESIGNS 341

Goals of the Chapter 341

Basic Structural Factors Affecting Organizational Design 342

Universal Design Theory 343 • Job Definitions 344 • Departmentalization

345 • Span of Control 350 • Decentralization and Delegation of Authority 353

Contingency Factors Affecting Organizational Design 359

Internal Contingency Factors 360 • External Contingency Factors 362

Designing the "Right" Structure 374

Summary 375 • Key Terms 376 • Review and Study Questions 376 • The

New Addition 377 • A Turbulent Move 378 • Self-Feedback Exercise:

Identifying an Organizational Design That is Ideal For You 380

CHAPTER 10 JOB DESIGN 384

Goals of the Chapter 384

Job Design: The Challenge 385

Job Differences 386

Job Dimensions 387

Job Design Techniques 390

Job Rotation 390 • Job Traction 391 • Job Enlargement 391 • Job Enrichment 393

Job Design: Conditioning Factors 397

Individual Differences 398 • Interpersonal Relationships 399 • Organizational Climate 400 • Technology 400

Job Characteristics Model 402

Using the Model 404

Quality of Work Life: Current Trends 407

Quality Circles 407

A Participative Management Movement 410

The Matter of Perspective 415

Summary 417 • Key Terms 418 • Review and Study Questions 419 • A

Change in Work 419 • A New Design 420 • Self-Feedback Exercise:

Evaluating the Motivating Potential Score of Your Own Job 422

CHAPTER 11 STRESS AND WORK 425

Goals of the Chapter 425

The Nature of Stress 426

How Stress Works 426 • Stress and Behavior 427

Specific Stressors 430

Physical Environment 430 • Individual Stressors 431 • Group Stressors 432 • Organizational Stressors 432 • Extraorganizational Stressors 434 • Life Events 436

Effects of Stress 439

Physical Disorders 439 • Alcoholism 440 • Burnout 442

Individual Differences 445

Demographic Differences 445 • Cognitive versus Affective Differences 446

Managing Stress 450

Diet 450 • Physical Fitness 452 • Mental Relaxation 453 • Organizational Approaches 455

Summary 456 • Key Terms 457 • Review and Study Questions 457 • She Loves the Work 458 • A Matter of Burnout 459 • Self-Feedback Exercise:

Identifying Type A and Type B Personalities 461

Part IV Comprehensive Cases 466

The President's Ideas 466

The Redesign Effort 471

Top Management Timber 477

PART V ORGANIZATIONAL PROCESSES 481
--

CHAPTER 12 THE DECISION-MAKING PROCESS 484

Goals of the Chapter 484

Basic Decision-Making Terminology 485

Prescriptive and Descriptive Theories 485 • Rationality in Decision Making 486

The Econologic Decision-Making Model 487

Econologic Decision-Making Process 487 • Econologic Shortcomings 491

The Bounded Rationality Decision-Making Model 492

Lack of Opportunistic Surveillance 493 • Use of Satisficing Behavior 493 • Bounded Rationality Model Process 494 • Accuracy of the Bounded Rationality Model 495

Other Empirical Research Findings 497

Simplification Is Important 499 • Subjective Rationality is Ever-Present 499 • Rationalization Often Transcends Rationality 500

Organizational Decision Making 501

Decision-Making Styles 502

Information Gathering and Evaluation Orientations 503 • Left-Brain, Right-Brain Hemispheres 506

Summary 509 • Key Terms 510 • Review and Study Questions 511 • A

Down-Home Decision 511 • It Was In The Bag 513 • Self-Feedback

Exercise: Are You a Left-Brain or a Right-Brain Hemisphere Person? 514

CHAPTER 13 THE COMMUNICATION PROCESS 518

Goals of the Chapter 518

The Nature of Communication 519

Communication in Organizations 520

Formal Communication Channels 520 • Informal Communication 522 • Communication Media 526

Barriers to Communication 528

Perception 529 • Language and Semantics 532 • Number of Links 534 • Inference-Observation 535 • Message Competition and Selective Listening 537 • Status 537

Achieving Effective Communication in Organizations 538

Using Face-to-Face Communication 539 • Simplicity and Repetition 539 • Empathy 541 • Understanding Nonverbal Behavior 541 • Effective Listening 542

Summary 547 • Key Terms 547 • Review and Study Questions 548 •

Grapevine Activity 548 • A Difference of Opinion 551 • Self-Feedback

Exercise: Identifying Your Own Listening Style 553

CHAPTER 14 PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL PROCESS 557

- Goals of the Chapter 557
- Performance Appraisal Cycle 558
- Sources of Error in Performance Appraisal 560
 - Response Tendencies of Raters 560 • Perceptual and Evaluative Rater Inaccuracies 563 • The Ratee as a Source of Error 564 • Effect of Rater-Ratee Interaction 565
- Reliability 565
- Validity 566
- Appraisal Methods and Techniques 568
 - Graphic Rating Scales 568 • Employee Comparison Techniques 570 • Checklist Methods 572 • Critical Incident Methods 574 • Objectives-Oriented Appraisals 579
- Appraisal and Follow-up 581
- Summary 583 • Key Terms 584 • Review and Study Questions 584 • Unreliable or Maybe Just Plain Invalid 585 • A New Evaluation 586 • Self-Feedback Exercise: Evaluate the Secretary 588

Part V Comprehensive Cases 592

- The Answer is No 592
- Susan's Plan 597

PART VI ORGANIZATIONAL EFFECTIVENESS 605

CHAPTER 15 ORGANIZATIONAL CLIMATE: CONFLICT AND CHANGE 607

- Goals of the Chapter 607
- Nature of Organizational Climate 608
 - Climate Factors 610 • Measuring Organizational Climate 613
- Conflict in Organizations 615
 - Conflict at the Individual Level 615 • Conflict at the Organizational Level 617 • The Management of Conflict 619
 - Organizational Change 622 • Resistance to Change 622 • Individual Resistance to Change 623 • Organizational Resistance 625
- Strategies for Change 626
 - Change Process 627 • Propositions for Change 629
- Summary 630 • Key Terms 631 • Review and Study Questions 632 • Who Needs It? 632 • A Matter of Change 634 • Self-Feedback Exercise: Evaluate Your Own Organizational Climate 636

CHAPTER 16 ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT 639

Goals of the Chapter 639

Nature of Organizational Development 640

Management Philosophy versus OD Philosophy 641

OD Components and Characteristics 643

The Diagnostic Component 644 • The Action Component 644 • Process-Maintenance Component 645 • The Characteristics 645

The OD Intervention 647

Examples of Interventions 648 • Classification of Interventions 649

Selected OD Interventions 651

Personal Interventions 651 • Group-Intergroup Interventions 653 • Total Organizational Interventions 658

Evaluation of OD 665

Optimal Success Conditions 666

Summary 669 • Key Terms 670 • Review and Study Questions 670 • A Lot of Hocus-Pocus? 671 • The Consultant's Report 673 • Self-Feedback Exercise: What is Your Management Style? 676

Part VI Comprehensive Cases 683

A Reimbursement Issue 683

And Now For Some Changes 689

Now What? 696

Computer Fear 702

GLOSSARY OF TERMS 711INDEX 727