

Contents

| | |
|--|------|
| List of Figures and Tables | xi |
| Acknowledgements | xiii |
| 1 Where Do Research Questions Come From? | 1 |
| The Importance of Existing Literature | 2 |
| When Should I Start Reading? | 3 |
| Where Should I Start Reading? | 4 |
| Not Reinventing the Wheel: What Counts as a ‘Gap’? | 11 |
| Originality | 13 |
| Influence | 15 |
| The Role of Theory | 17 |
| Practical Stimuli for Research Questions | 21 |
| Applied Research | 24 |
| The Relationship between Research Questions and the Literature Review: | |
| The ‘Literature Funnel’ | 25 |
| Examples of Generating Research Questions | 28 |
| Using Your Studies to Generate Ideas for Research | 32 |
| Using Personal Experience to Generate Research Questions | 33 |
| Summary | 35 |
| Exercises for Readers | 36 |
| Further Reading | 37 |
| Media Reports Used as Examples in This Chapter | 37 |
| 2 What Makes a Research Question? | 39 |
| Topics, Aims and Objectives | 39 |
| Being Careful about the Form of Your Questions | 44 |
| Appropriate Subjects for Research Questions | 49 |
| Question Types | 56 |
| Hypotheses | 61 |

| | | |
|----------|---|------------|
| | Summary | 64 |
| | Exercises for Readers | 64 |
| | Further Reading | 65 |
| | Sources for Research Questions Used as Examples in This Chapter | 65 |
| 3 | What Makes a Question ‘Researchable’? | 67 |
| | The ‘Researchability’ of Questions | 67 |
| | A Question of Language | 73 |
| | Being Clear | 74 |
| | Being Precise | 75 |
| | A Question of Resources | 82 |
| | Research Questions and Resources | 89 |
| | Summary | 90 |
| | Exercises for Readers | 91 |
| | Further Reading | 91 |
| 4 | How Do My Research Questions Help Me Design My Study? | 93 |
| | Questions First, Methods Later | 93 |
| | Research ‘Traditions’ | 94 |
| | Methods-Led Research and ‘Methodolatry’ | 95 |
| | The Importance of Research Design | 97 |
| | What Is Research Design? | 98 |
| | Using Concepts in Your Research: From Definitions to Data Collection. | 100 |
| | Operationalising Common Concepts: Social Class, Ethnicity and Gender | 105 |
| | Can All Concepts Be Operationalised? | 111 |
| | Summary | 115 |
| | Exercises for Readers | 116 |
| | Further Reading | 116 |
| 5 | How Do I Answer My Research Questions? | 117 |
| | Why Answering Questions Is Important | 117 |
| | What Does Answering Research Questions Involve? | 118 |
| | The Structure of Arguments | 118 |
| | Claims | 119 |
| | Qualifying Claims | 121 |
| | Data and Evidence | 123 |
| | Warrants | 123 |

| | |
|---------------------------------|------------|
| Alternative Hypotheses. | 129 |
| Summary. | 131 |
| Exercises for Students. | 132 |
| Further Reading | 133 |
| Glossary | 135 |
| Bibliography | 139 |
| Index. | 149 |