

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	1
Right-Wing Intellectual Identity in Historiographical Context: The Right	9
Right-Wing Intellectual Identity in Historiographical Context: The Intellectual	21
Structure of the Chapters	24
Notes	28
1 Intellectual Identity Construction Begins: The Dreyfus Affair, 1898–1902	35
Resentment and Reaction on the Anti-Dreyfusard Right: Maurice Barrès	46
Resentment and Reaction on the Anti-Dreyfusard Right: Ferdinand Brunetière	53
Differentiation and Reappropriation of Cultural Values	60
Collective Identity Construction: Segregation of Social Spaces and Professional Trajectories	69
Notes	83
2 Grooming the Right-Wing Intellectual: The Nouvelle Sorbonne Debate, 1910–1914	93
Resentment and Reaction on the Traditionalist Right: Henri Massis	105
Resentment and Reaction on the Monarchist Right: Charles Maurras	111
Differentiation and Reappropriation of Cultural Values	116
Collective Identity Construction: Segregation of Social Spaces and Professional Trajectories	121
Notes	129
3 Constructing the French Fascist Intellectual: The Interwar Polarization, 1930–1939	137
Resentment and Reaction against the Popular Front: Abel Bonnard	147
Resentment and Reaction from the Parti Populaire Français: Ramon Fernandez	153

	Differentiation and Reappropriation of Cultural Values	158
	Collective Identity Construction: Segregation of Social Spaces and Professional Trajectories	166
	Notes	178
4	The Ostracized Intellectual in Power: Occupation and Collaboration, 1940–1945	185
	Resentment and Reaction from the Dissatisfied Collaborator: Pierre Drieu la Rochelle	195
	Resentment and Reaction from the Convinced Collaborator: Alphonse de Châteaubriant	202
	Differentiation and Reappropriation of Cultural Values	207
	Collective Identity Construction: Segregation of Social Spaces and Professional Trajectories	214
	Notes	224
5	An All-Consuming Resentment: The Intellectual Right in the Postwar Era, 1945–1967	231
	Resentment and Reaction from the Negationist: Maurice Bardèche	242
	Resentment and Reaction from the Hussard: Jacques Laurent	248
	Differentiation and Reappropriation of Cultural Values	256
	Collective Identity Construction: Segregation of Social Spaces and Professional Trajectories	262
	Notes	273
6	Resentment and the New Right: Intellectual Identity Reimagined, 1968–2000	281
	Notes	300
	Conclusion	305
	Notes	309
	Bibliography	311
	Archival Sources	311
	Periodicals	311
	Primary and Secondary Sources	312
	Index	327
	About the Author	337