

Contents

List of Acronyms	13
List of Figures	15
List of Tables	17
Chapter 1: Introduction	19
1.1 Idea and Goal of This Survey	20
1.2 Incentives and ODA Effectiveness	21
1.3 Elites and ODA Effectiveness	23
1.4 Research Question and Design	26
1.5 What This Survey Will Not Provide	29
1.6 The Developmentalist Paradox: A Disclaimer	29
Chapter 2: The 'Elite Compatibility' Concept	33
2.1 The Old Tradition of the ODA Effectiveness Debate	33
2.1.1 Effective for What? Concepts of 'Development'	34
2.1.2 The Current Debate Around ODA Effectiveness	38
2.1.2.1 The Macro Level	39
2.1.2.2 The Micro Level	42
2.1.2.3 Concept Fashions and Effectiveness	47
2.1.2.4 'Doing Things Right' Is Not 'Doing the Right Things'	49
2.1.3 What Is Ignored	53
2.2 The Model of Extractive and Inclusive Institutions	56
2.3 Taking the Model to the Project Level: The 'Elite Compatibility' Concept	60
2.3.1 Challenges in a Typical Low-Performing Project	62
2.3.2 Elaborating the 'Elite Compatibility' Concept	64
2.4 Summary	71

Contents

Chapter 3	Elites as a Focus in Development Research	75
3.1	Theoretical and Conceptual Origin	77
3.2	Current Research in the Development Context	86
3.2.1	The Micro Perspective: Elite Behavior	90
3.2.1.1	The Elite-mass Gap	90
3.2.1.2	Elite Capture and ‘Participation’	94
3.2.2	Between Micro and Macro Perspective: Neopatrimonialism	99
3.2.3	The Macro Perspective: Leaders and Growth	103
3.3	Summary	105
Chapter 4	Theoretical Foundation of the ‘Elite Compatibility’ Concept: Incentives and Incentive Compatibility	109
4.1	Theoretical and Conceptual Origin	109
4.2	Incentives in New Institutional Economics	113
4.3	The Role of Incentives and Institutions in ODA	121
4.3.1	Institutions and Development: Challenges of the Macro-Institutional Perspective	123
4.3.2	Institutions and Incentives: The Micro-Institutional Perspective	131
4.3.2.1	The Multi-level Principal-agent Nature of ODA	137
4.3.2.2	The Samaritan’s Dilemma	139
4.3.2.3	The Broken Feedback Loop: Disconnected Principals	150
4.4	Summary	156
	Interim Summary of the Research Focus	159
Chapter 5	Background on the Empirical Material of Evaluation Reports	161
5.1	EuropeAid as an Actor in ODA	161
5.2	Procedure and Terms of the Evaluation Process in ODA	161
5.2.1	Actors	162
5.2.2	The Project Cycle	162
5.2.3	The Intervention Logic and Evaluation Criteria	165

5.3	Challenges and Limitations of Evaluation:
	What Is Evaluated in Evaluation?	169
5.3.1	The Difficult Role(s) of Evaluation	169
5.3.2	In-the-Field-Reality of Evaluation	172
5.3.3	The GNP and Other Rough Estimates: Measurement Problems	173
5.3.4	Relation of This Study to the Limitations	175
5.4	Summary	176
Chapter 6 Evaluation of the Empirical Material		179
6.1	Description of the Sample and Sub-sample	181
6.1.1	Selection Criteria for the Total Sample	181
6.1.2	Comparison of Total Sample and Qualitative Sub Sample	183
6.1.3	Structure and Contents of the Reports	184
6.1.4	Critical Discussion of the Data Quality	188
6.2	Definition of the Project Performance Criterion	191
6.2.1	Quantitative Exploration of the Large Dataset	192
6.2.2	Formation of Extreme Groups	195
6.3	Operationalization of the ‘Elite Compatibility’ Construct Into a Research Design	196
6.3.1	Methodology	196
6.3.2	The Coding Frame for Content Analysis	198
6.3.3	The Data Collection and Coding Procedure	201
6.3.4	Code Types for Symptoms Collected From the Reports	206
6.4	Results of the Evaluation	209
6.4.1	Distribution of Elite Compatibility Issues	209
6.4.2	Elaboration: Elite Levels	215
6.4.3	Evaluation of Additional Project Data	218
	6.4.3.1 Type of Implementing Partner	218
	6.4.3.2 Budget	219
	6.4.3.3 Qualitative Variables	221
	6.4.3.4 Rating Category Values	229
6.4.4	Elite-Compatibility Issue Codes	229
6.5	Critical Discussion of the Research Design	238
6.5.1	Objectivity, Reliability, Validity	238
	6.5.1.1 Objectivity	238
	6.5.1.2 Reliability	238
	6.5.1.3 Test Validity	239

Contents

6.5.1.4 Internal and External Validity of the Empirical Results	242
6.5.2 Geographical Regions and the Blank Slate Approach	245
Chapter 7 Summary and Conclusion	249
7.1 Summary of the Results	250
7.2 Discussion: Solving Elite-Compatibility Problems	254
7.2.1 Possible Implications From the Results of This Survey	254
7.2.2 Alternative Solutions From the Aid Discourse	258
7.2.3 Solving Elite Compatibility on the Project Level	264
7.3 Conclusion	266
References	269
Appendices	301
Index	345