

Contents

Preface .....	vii
Part I Introduction .....	1
1. Technology and Human Needs .....	3
The Technological Perspective .....	4
A Focus on the Powerholder .....	6
Part II The Psychology of Power .....	11
2. Tactics of Influence in Everyday Life .....	13
Why Bother to Influence Others? .....	14
Control of Resources .....	15
Tactics of Influence .....	16
Empirical Studies of Influence Strategies .....	17
When Are Stronger and Weaker Tactics Used? .....	20
Gender Differences in the Use of Influence .....	25
Other Studies of Influence Tactics .....	26
Technology, Dependency, and Power .....	29
3. The Metamorphic Effects of Power .....	37
Early Writings .....	38
Power Corrupts .....	39
Autonomy and Control .....	42
The Consequences of Using Strong Tactics .....	45
Does Power Corrupt? .....	49
Part III Technology and Control .....	51
4. Behavior Control Technology .....	53
What Is Behavioral Technology? .....	54
Behavioral Control Technologies .....	55
The Ethics of Behavior Control .....	58
Can the Metamorphic Model Be Applied to Behavioral Technologies? .....	60
Therapeutic Practices and Changes in the Therapist .....	64

Some Cautions . . . . .	73
Techniques of Leadership and the Metamorphic Model . . . . .	74
Conclusion . . . . .	77
5. Medical Technology . . . . .	81
The Balance of Power in Doctor–Patient Relations . . . . .	82
Pre-World War II . . . . .	83
The Mental Health Profession . . . . .	87
Modern Technology and the New Physician . . . . .	89
Future Trends in Medicine . . . . .	97
6. The Routinization of Work . . . . .	99
Technology Reduces Management’s Dependency on Labor . . . . .	100
Field Studies in Industry . . . . .	101
Technology and Democracy . . . . .	111
7. The Technology of Coercion . . . . .	114
Why Use Coercion? . . . . .	115
Colonialism and Military Power . . . . .	117
The Metamorphic Model of Power . . . . .	122
A Final Account . . . . .	132
8. Solutions . . . . .	134
Problems of Technology . . . . .	135
Solutions to Technological Problems . . . . .	137
Author Index . . . . .	145
Subject Index . . . . .	149