
Contents

List of illustrations	vii
Preface	ix
1 Introduction: the social economy of health	1
Part I The health of societies
2 Health becomes a social science	13
3 Rising life expectancy and the epidemiological transition	29
Part II Health inequalities within societies
4 The problem of health inequalities	53
5 Income distribution and health	72
Part III Social cohesion and social conflict
6 A small town in the USA, wartime Britain, Eastern Europe and Japan	113
7 An anthropology of social cohesion	137
8 The symptoms of disintegration	153
Part IV How society kills
9 The psychosocial causes of illness	175
10 Baboons, civil servants and children's height	193

Part V Redistribution, economic growth and the quality of life

11 Social capital: putting Humpty together again	211
Bibliography	233
Name index	247
Subject index	251