

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	xi
MAP	xv
Prologue	I
1 The first wave: the murder, the smoke and the ruins	7
2 Sons of whose soil? Britain and the birth of a fractured nation	17
3 The art of belonging: a peculiar transaction in Yangon	33
4 Us and them: making identities, manipulating divides	58
5 Ruling the unruly: social engineering and the village of prisoners	69
6 2012: season of violence	98
7 At first light the darkness fell: Myanmar's democratic experiment falters	123

8	“We came down from the sky”: the Buddhist preachers of hate	164
9	Apartheid state: camps, ghettos and the new architecture of control	199
10	U Maung Soe: an outcast in disguise	229
11	In the old cinema hut: fear, hope and the heroes we forget	241
	NOTES	272