

CONTENTS

- |          |  |           |
|----------|--|-----------|
| 1 | Introduction: Nordic Girlhoods—New Perspectives and Outlooks  | 1  |
|          | Bodil Formark, Heta Mulari and Myry Voipio   |           |
| 2 | Negotiating Emancipation and Nationalism: Finnish Girls' Literature from 1889–1901                            | 23 |
|          | Myry Voipio  |           |
| 3 | Explosive Self-Confident Femininity: Experienced and Remembered Girl Energy                                   | 49 |
|          | Aino Tormulainen, Heta Mulari and Myry Voipio  |           |
| 4 | Outlook: What Do Finnish Fiction and Girl Energy Have to Do with Feminism and Gay Liberation in South Africa? | 73 |
|          | Ann Smith  |           |
| 5 | Grin and Bear It! Downplaying Sexual Harassment as Part of Nordic Girlhood                                    | 83 |
|          | Sanna Aaltonen   |           |

6	“Prevention, Prevention, Prevention. It’s All About Prevention and Diseases.” Migrant Girls’ Views on Sexuality Education	103
	Veronika Honkasalo
7	Outlook: Girlhood, Agency, and Embodied Space for Action	127
	Fiona Vera-Gray
8	When the Problem of Incurable Girls Became a Problem of Psychopathy	137
	Bolette Frydendahl Larsen
9	Narrating Family: Talk About a Troublesome Girlhood in the Swedish Context	161
	Linda Arnell
10	The Girl and the Feminist State? Subjectification Projects in the Nordic Welfare State	179
	Elina Oinas
11	Outlook: Nordic Girlhoods from a Russian Perspective	207
	Olga Zdravomyslova
12	Conclusion: A Conversation	219
	Bodil Formark, Heta Mulari and Myry Voipio
	Index	227