

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
List of Illustrations	x
Introduction: Michelangelo Merisi da Caravaggio — A Self-Perpetuating Myth	1
1 Caravaggio in Context	15
The socio-historical context	16
How does Caravaggio fit in this context? Key events in Merisi's early life	18
Rome and other key events in Caravaggio's life	19
Caravaggio's fortune	31
2 Michelangelo Merisi's Lives: The 'Painter as Character' Genre	40
Caravaggio pittore maledetto versus Caravaggio the hero of the poor	42
The author/painter as character genre	47
Michelangelo Merisi and his lives: a case study	49
3 Caravaggio, Crime Fiction, and the Noir	69
Mean Streets : Scorsese and Caravaggio	74
Margaret Truman: Murder at the National Gallery	80
Neil Griffiths: Saving Caravaggio	86
Forgery and revenge: Fabio Baldassarri's Il mistero del Caravaggio and Noel Charney's The Art Thief	90
When truth is stranger than fiction: Jonathan Harr's The Lost Painting	97
Gilda Piersanti's Jaune Caravage	101
4 Caravaggio and Homoerotic Concerns	119
Dominique Fernandez's Dans la main de l'ange	120
Thom Gunn	133
Caravaggio and Derek Jarman	144
Samuel M. Steward's The Caravaggio Shawl	160
5 Deleuzian Folds: Michael Ondaatje's and Anthony Minghella's Caravaggio	175
David Caravaggio: an artist in disguise	176
Key pictorial intertextual references	188
Conclusion: Caravaggio and the Neo-Baroque — Some Final Considerations	203
Bibliography	209
Index	221