

Contents

Preface: "As Myn Auctour Seyde, So Seye I"	ix
PART ONE The Problem of Interpretation
Sir Gawain and the Red Herring: The Perils of Interpretation Robert W. Hanning, Columbia University	5
Synne Horrible: The Pardoner's Exegesis of His Tale, and Chaucer's H. Marshall Leicester, Jr., University of California, Santa Cruz	25
PART TWO The Transmission of the Text
The Poet as Reviser: The Metamorphosis of the Confession of the Seven Deadly Sins in Piers Plowman George H. Russell, University of Melbourne	53
Translation from Old English: "The Garbaging War-Hawk," or, The Literal Materials from Which the Reader Can Re-create the Poem Eric Stanley, University of Oxford	67
PART THREE The Textual Plane
What Comes After Chaucer's But : Adversative Constructions in Spenser Judith H. Anderson, Indiana University	105
The Grain of the Text Derek Brewer, Emmanuel College, Cambridge University	119
Beowulf Comes Home: Close Reading in Epic Context Edward B. Irving, Jr., University of Pennsylvania	129

ACTS OF INTERPRETATION

PART FOUR The Stylistic and Iconographic Context

- An ABC to the Style of the Prioress
 Alfred David, Indiana University 147
- Pearl's "Maynful Mone"*: Crux, Simile, and Structure
 Marie Borroff, Yale University 159

PART FIVE The Intellectual Context

- Time, Apocalypse, and the Plot of Piers Plowman
 Mary J. Carruthers, University of Illinois at Chicago 175
- The Franklin's Tale: A Story of Unanswered Questions*
 Morton W. Bloomfield, Harvard University 189

PART SIX The Social Context

- Margery Kempe in Jerusalem: Hysterica Compassio in the Late
 Middle Ages
 Hope Phyllis Weissman, Wesleyan University 201
- "Ore pure parler del array de une graunt mangereye": The Culture of the "Newe Get," Circa 1285
 Constance B. Heatt, University of Western Ontario 219

PART SEVEN Courtly Love

- Chaucer, Love Poetry, and Romantic Love
 George Kane, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill 237
- "Paradis Stood Formed in Hire Yën": Courtly Love and
 Chaucer's Re-Vision of Dante
 Elizabeth D. Kirk, Brown University 257

PART EIGHT Genre and Convention

- Troilus and Criseyde*: Poet and Narrator
 Elizabeth Salter, University of York 281

CONTENTS

A Note on Gower's Persona Paul Strohm, Indiana University	293
Morwe of May: A Season of Feminine Ambiguity Eleanor W. Leach, Indiana University	299
The Intangible and Its Image: Allegorical Discourse and the Cast of Everyman Carolynn Van Dyke, Lafayette College	311

PART NINE The Uses of Literature

More, Castiglione, and the Humanist Choice of Utopias Richard A. Lanham, University of California, Los Angeles	327
The Existential Mysteries as Treated in Certain Passages of Our Older Poets John C. Pope, Yale University	345

PART TEN E. Talbot Donaldson

Speaking of Donaldson	365
E. Talbot Donaldson: Curriculum Vitae and Publications	375
Index	381