

Contents

Introduction	I
--------------	---

PART I • 43

1	Varieties of Natural History: The Whole of the Natural and the Known	45
2	Dogmas of Unity and Questions of Expertise	67
3	The Many Faces of Force and the Mutability of Energy	87
4	Schisms	113

PART II • 143

5	Undoing and Reassembling Scales and Histories	145
6	Other Emerging Genres of Synthesis: From the Fabulaic to the Foundational	181
7	Humanisms, Nuclear Histories, and Nuclear Ages	211
8	Scientific Myth and Mysticism	241

PART III • 273

9	Scientific Tribes and Totalizing Myths	275
10	Cosmos and the Structure of “Epic Myth”	307
11	Political Cosmologies	341

12 A New Version of Genesis

375

Coda: Epic Humanisms

419

Acknowledgments • 429

Notes • 431

Index • 539