

Table of Contents.

	Page.
Preface	III
Table of Contents	VI
Introduction. — §§ 1—2. The Comparison of Adjectives in Old and Middle English. §§ 3—4. Rise of the Periphrastic Method. The Names «Terminational» and «Periphrastic». § 5. Distinctions in Usage. History of Critical Opinion. § 6. Modern Rules. § 7. Some Special Uses of Terminational Comparison. § 8. Conclusions for Modern English. § 9. Comparison in the XV and the XVI Century. § 10. Adjective Vocabulary in the XV and the XVI Century	1
I. Terminational Comparison	11
1. Formal Elements. — § 11. Normal endings and variants. § 12. Adjectives in -le and -er . § 13. Contract superlatives in -oust . § 14. Other contract superlatives. § 15. Adjectives in -y . § 16. Orthographical doubling in comparative and superlative. § 17. The comparative darre	11
2. Use. — § 18. Terminational comparison in the XV and the XVI century. § 19. With monosyllables. § 20. With dissyllables. 1) oxytones. 2) adjectives in -y . 3) adjectives in -le and -er . 4) adjectives in -ful . 5) adjectives in -ed . 6) adjectives in -ous , -ish , -est . 7) adjectives in -ow . 8) adjectives in heavy consonant groups. 9) various adjectives. § 21. Terminational comparison with trisyllables. § 22. With quadrisyllables. § 23. Conclusions	14
II. Periphrastic Comparison	18
§ 24. Periphrastic comparison in the XV and the XVI century. § 25. With monosyllables. § 26. With dissyllables. 1) oxytones. 2) adjectives in -y . 3) adjectives in -le and -er . 4) adjectives in -ful . 5) adjectives in -ed . 6) adjectives in -ous , -ish , -est . 7) adjectives in -ow . 8) adjectives in heavy consonant groups. 9) various adjectives. § 27. Periphrastic comparison with trisyllables. § 28. With quadrisyllables. § 29. Comparison of two or more adjectives in succession. § 30. Comparison of two qualities of the same subject. § 31. Combination of terminational and periphrastic comparison in the same phrase. § 32. Differences between sixteenth century and modern usage	18

	Page.
iii. The Comparison of Participles	24
1. Terminational Mode. § 34. Terminational mode in the XV and the XVI century. 1) with present participles. 2) with past participles	24
2. Periphrastic Mode. § 35. The periphrastic mode in the XV and the XVI century. 1) with present participles. 2) with past participles	25
3. Better and Best with Participles. § 36. Use of better and best with participles, for more and most	26
IV. Irregular Comparison	26
1. Survival of Umlaut. — § 37. Umlaut comparison of long , strong , old . § 38. Strong . 1) strenger , strengest . 2) stranger , strangest . § 39. Long . 1) lenger , lengest . 2) langer , langest . § 40. Old . Retention of elder , eldest beside older , oldest . Distinction in meaning. 1) elder , eldest , older , oldest . 2) special use of elder , eldest	26
2. Comparatives and Superlatives with Consonant Doubling. — § 41. Consonant doubling in the XV and the XVI Century. § 42. Survival in modern English	28
3. Comparative Combination of heterogeneous Words. § 43. Complementary or supplementary comparison	30
a) Much , More Most . — § 44. Normal forms and variants. 1) positives. 2) comparatives. 3) the comparative mo . 4) superlatives. § 45. Special use of much , more , most . 1) much . 2) more . 3) most	30
b) Better Best . — § 46. Comparatives better and best . § 47. Comparative bet . § 48. Double comparison of better and best . § 49. Use of better and best in place of more and most	33

	Page.
c) Bad (Evil, Ill), Worse, Worst. — § 50. Normal forms and variants. 1) evil . 2) ill . 3) bad . 4) comparatives. 5) superlatives. § 51. Terminational comparison of bad	35
d) Little, Less, Least. — § 52. Normal forms and variants. 1) less . 2) use of less for fewer . 3) least . § 53. Use of less and least in comparison as the counterparts of more and most . § 54. Regular comparison of little	37
4. Twofold Comparison of Late and Out	38
a) Late. — § 55. Twofold comparative forms. Origin, and distinctions in meaning. 1) lutter . 2) later . 3) last . 4) latest . § 56. Use of latter for the superlative. § 57. Retention of latter , last beside later , latest	38
b) Out. — § 58. Twofold comparative forms. Origin. 1) utter , outer . 2) uttrest , utmost , uttermost , outmost , etc. § 59. Use of utter for the superlative. § 60. Retention of utter , utmost , etc. beside outer , outmost	41
5. Comparatives formed from adverbial Positives. — § 61. Comparatives and superlatives from adverbial positives	42
a) Near. — § 62. Normal forms and variants. 1) nigh , nigher , nighest , more and most nigh . 2) near as comparative. 3) nerre , narre , the old weak form as comparative. 4) near , nearer , nearest , more near , most near . 5) double comparison of near . § 63. Distinction between nearest and next . 1) next denoting time or sequence. 2) next denoting locality. § 64. Nexter and nextmost	43
b) Far. — § 65. Normal forms and variants. 1) positives, ferre , farre , etc. 2) comparatives, ferre , farre , etc. 3) superlative ferrest . 4) periphrastic comparison of far . § 66. Distinction between farther , farthest , and further , furthest . 1) farther , farthest , denoting locality. 2) denoting time or sequence. 3) further , furthest , denoting locality. 4) denoting time or sequence	45
6. Defective Comparison of Former , Foremost . § 67. Origin of former and foremost . 1) superlative forme . 2) comparative former . 3) superlative formost , foremost , etc.	48
V. Double and Intensified Comparison	49
1. Double Comparison	49
a) Adjectives with Double Superlative Suffix. § 68. Super-

	Page.
latives in -most . 1) middlemost, hindermost . 2) inmost, upmost, etc. 3) aftermost, nethermost, etc.	49
b) Prefixing of More and Most to Terminational Comparatives. § 69. More and most with terminational comparatives. 1) double comparatives. 2) double superlatives	50
c) Double Terminational Comparison of Worse and Less . § 70. Addition of the terminational -er to worse and less . 1) worser . 2) lesser . § 71. Other double terminational comparatives	52
2. Intensified Comparison. — § 72. Comparison strengthened by adverbs and adverbial expressions. 1) comparative intensified. 2) superlative intensified. § 73. Double comparison strengthened by adverbs and adverbial expressions. § 74. Superlatives strengthened by alder . § 75. Superlative prefixed to the positive. § 76. Combination of words of equal root or meaning. 1) superlative + related noun. 2) superlative + plural of the positive. 3) tautological superlative + noun superlative in meaning. 4) other efforts to intensify. § 77. Comparison of adjectives already superlative in meaning. 1) terminational comparison of chief . 2) terminational comparison of other adjectives. 3) periphrastic comparison	54
VI. Elative (Absolute) Use of Comparative and Superlative. — § 78. The elative construction of the comparative and superlative in English. § 79. Elatives in the XV and the XVI century. § 80. Comparison of the history of elatives in French and in English	57
1. Elative Superlatives. § 81. Elative use of periphrastic superlatives. § 82. Of terminational superlatives.	58
2. Elative Comparatives. § 83. Elative use of terminational comparatives	59
VII. The Substantivation of Comparatives and Superlatives. § 84. Substantivation of comparatives and superlatives	60
1. In the Singular. § 85. Substantivation of comparatives and superlatives in the singular. 1) comparatives. 2) superlatives. 3) referring to a preceding noun. 4) substantive use of the comparatives of participles	62

	Page.
2. In the Plural. § 86. Substantivation of comparatives and superlatives in the plural, 1) without -s. 2) with -s	63
3. Substantivation through following Nouns. § 87. Substantivation through one , and thing	64
VIII. Some Syntactical Peculiarities	64
1. Post-Position of Comparative. § 88. Post-position of the attributive comparative	64
2. Omission of Definite Article. § 89. 1) with terminational superlatives. 2) with periphrastic superlatives. 3) in the predicate. 4) with several superlatives in succession	65
3. Unusual Word Order. § 90. Some cases of the unusual position of the comparative	66
4. The Superlative with of all other . § 91. Origin of the construction. § 92. Variant constructions	66
5. The Appositive Superlative with one . § 93. The appositive superlative with one . § 94. Origin of the construction. § 95. Other explanations. § 96. The appositive superlative with other numerals	69
6. The Superlative in Comparisons of Two. § 97. Use of the superlative for the comparative in comparisons of two	71
Appendix	73
Literature consulted	74
List of Texts examined, with Abbreviations	75
Other Abbreviations	79
Partial Index of Forms	80

