

CONTENTS

Foreword	v
by Wong Sin Kiong
1 A Confucian Perspective on Human Rights	1
Tu Wei-ming
2 Nationalism and Confucianism	23
Wang Gungwu
3 Did Confucianism Hinder the Development of Science in China?	49
Ho Peng Yoke
4 East Meets West: The Impact on China and Her Response	67
Liu Ts'un-Yan
5 Across Translingual Landscape: Crisis and Innovation in Contemporary Chinese Cultures	89
Leo Ou-Fan Lee
6 Zheng He: Navigator, Discoverer, and Diplomat	111
Chin Ling-Yeong
7 Plurality of Cultures in the Context of Globalization and a New Perspective of Comparative Literature	127
Yue Daiyun
8 The Scientific Merit of Educational Studies	145
Cho-Yee To

9	In the Beginning: Searching for Childhood in Chinese History and Philosophy Hsiung Ping-Chen	171
10	The Walls and Waters: A Comparative Study of the City Cultures in Modern China — Beijing, Shanghai, and Hong Kong Philip Y.S. Leung	221
	Index	247
	Editor	253