

Contents

1	Towards an Evidence-Based Active Ageing Strategy	1
	Asgar Zaidi, Sarah Harper, Kenneth Howse, Giovanni Lamura, and Jolanta Perek-Białas
Part I	Building Evidence for Active Ageing Policies
	Active Ageing Index and its Potential	17
2	Are Societies with a High Value on the Active Ageing Index More Age Integrated?	19
	Pearl A. Dykstra and Maria Fleischmann
3	The Expected, Evaluated, Perceived, Valued and Prevalent Social Roles of Older People: Are They by Consent?	39
	Lucie Vidovičová
4	The Active Ageing Index (AAI) and its Relation to the Quality of Life of Older Adults	55
	Marcela Petrová Kafková

5	Complementing AAI at the Meso Level: The Silver Work Index	75
	Anne Marit Wöhrmann, Jürgen Deller, and Leena Pundt
Part II	Subnational Adaptations of the AAI	95
6	The Active Ageing Index in a Southern European Region (Biscay): Main Results and Potentials for Policymaking	97
	Amaia Bacigalupe, Yolanda González-Rábago, Unai Martín, Sergio Murillo, and Alfonso Unceta
7	Evaluating Socio-economic Impact of Age-Friendly Environments	117
	Mireia Ferri Sanz, Jorge Garcés Ferrer, Willeke van Staaldouin, Rodd Bond, and Menno Hinkema
8	The Active Ageing Index: A Tool to Develop the Strategy of Active Ageing in the Basque Country (Spain)	139
	Elena del Barrio, Angel Rodriguez-Laso, Olga Mayoral, Mayte Sancho, and Lide Amilibia
9	Greying Italy Across Time, Space, and Gender	167
	Luciana Quattrocioni, Daria Squillante, and Mauro Tibaldi
Part III	Comparative Analysis of Active Ageing	191
10	Differences in Active Ageing Index in Eastern European Countries: A Comparison of Poland and the Czech Republic	193
	Kasia Karpinska

11	Ageing in a Multicultural Europe: Perspectives and Challenges Eralba Cela and Mariateresa Ciommi	211
12	Estimating Weights for the Active Ageing Index (AAI) from Stated Preferences: Proposal for a Discrete Choice Experiment (DCE) Christian Ernst Heinrich Boehler, Timea Mariann Helter, Ibrahim-Kholilul Rohman, and Fabienne Abadie	239
Part IV Methodological Improvements in Measuring Active Ageing		259
13	A Cross-country and Cohort Analysis of Active Ageing Differences Among the Elderly in Europe Javier Olivera	261
14	Active Ageing Typologies: A Latent Class Analysis of the Older Europeans Bruno Arpino and Valeria Bordone	295
15	How Relevant is Active Ageing? Evidence from Portugal Sara Valente de Almeida and Pedro Pita Barros	313
16	Study on Active Ageing at Individual Level Based on Active Ageing Index Coro Piñeiro Vázquez, Jesús Marcial Méndez Magán, Sara Marsillas Rascado, Antonio Rial Boubeta, Teresa Braña Tobío, and Jesús Varela Mallou	343

Part V Use of Active Ageing Index in Non-EU Countries	363
17 Comparative Study of Active Ageing in China and the EU Countries	365
Qian Xiong and Arkadiusz Wiśniowski
18 Quality of Life of the Elderly and Applicability of the Active Ageing Index to Latin American Countries	385
Javiera Fanta
19 Active Ageing Index: A Russian Study	409
Galina A. Barysheva, Elena A. Frolova, Veronika A. Malanina, and Ekaterina A. Taran
20 Active Ageing Index (AAI) in India: Is the Approach Used in European Countries Applicable to Developing Countries?	437
Aravinda Meera Guntupalli and Suchandrima Chakraborty
Index	465