

Contents

Sarah Herbe and Gabriele Linke:
Introduction	7
Ralf Schneider:
The Autobiography of the First World War	17
James Fenwick:
"Freddie, Can You Talk?" The Ethics of Betrayal in Frederic Raphael's Memoir Eyes Wide Open (1999)	39
Sarah Herbe:
Online Self-Presentation and -Promotion in Jeanette Winterson's Column (2000–2014)	59
Simone Herrmann:
Graphic Isolation? Imagining Contemporary Britain in Graphic Memoirs	79
Markus Oppolzer:
Teaching (British) Autobiographical Comics	105
Katrin Röder:
Acknowledging Anger, Problematising Shame: Affirming New Identities in British Women's Disability Autobiographies	137
Cyprian Piskurek:
I Support Therefore I Am: British Football Fan Autobiographies	163
Gabriele Linke:
Between Ethnography and Ecology: Autobiographical Narratives from Rural Scotland since the Second World War	183
Contributors' Addresses	207
	5