

CONTENTS

Foreword by Julian Bond	vii
Introduction by John Chambers, Jr.	ix
Education and the Law: The King Case in Ann Arbor, Richard W. Bailey	1
Recognizing Black English in the Classroom, William Labov	29
Meeting the Educational Needs of Students Who Speak a Vernacular English in the Public School Setting, Ronald C. Woods	56
Language Variation in American English Vernaculars, John Baugh	71
Mid-South English, Midwestern Teachers, and Middle-of-the-Road Textbooks, Gary N. Underwood	81
The Black English Controversy and its Implications for Addressing the Edu- cational Needs of Black Children: The Cultural Linguistic Approach, Judith A. Starks	91
Black English: An Agenda for the 1980's, Orlando L. Taylor	133
Appendix: Memorandum Opinion and Order, Charles W. Joiner, United States District Judge	145