

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
1. Introduction	1
2. The 'celled-up dishonour of boyhood': Clough's The Bothie of Toper-na-Fuosich	44
3. 'A sweet disorder in the dresse': Tennyson's The Princess	90
4. 'A printing woman who has lost her place': Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh	130
5. Who needs men? Christina Rossetti's Goblin Market	170
6. 'Turbid pictures': George Meredith's Modern Love	204
7. Conclusion	240
Index	251