

CONTENTS

Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction. Women of Exile: Isolation as Identity	1

PART I PERSECUTION AND DISPLACEMENT

1. Ruth Sass-Glaser, Growing Up in Germany	11
2. Margot Bloch-Wresinski, Immigration to Palestine	17
3. Bertha Katz, My World Fell to Pieces	23
4. Erika Bond, Among the First Refugees	31
5. Toni Sender, Escape from Terror	35
6. Anonymous, There Was No Going Back	39
7. Thekla Kauffmann, German-Jewish Children's Aid	45
8. Nora Rosenthal, Disillusionment	51
9. Hertha Beuthner, On the Train to Moscow	57
10. Marta Feuchtwanger, Transit	63
11. Alice Oppenheimer, A Few Days of My Life	69
12. Annemarie Wolfram, At the Border	81

PART II EXILE AND WAR

13. Elizabeth Bamberger, Emigration or Deportation	91
14. Esti Freud, Beyond My Understanding	103
15. Ellen Schoenheimer, Refugee Life in France	109
16. Charlotte Singer, From the Diary of a Refugee	121
17. Grete Fischer, "Club 1943"	129
18. Paula Littauer, Berlin and Brussels 1942–1944	133
19. Ellen Drobatschewski, In Hiding	149
20. Kate Mendels, Exile in Australia	161
21. Lucie Begov, With My Own Eyes	173

PART III EXILE IN HINDSIGHT

22. Johanna Neumann, End of the War	179
23. Else Gerstel, Times Have Changed	193
24. Ruth Michaelis-Jena, Post-War Germany	201
25. Hilde Domin, Among Acrobats and Birds	209
26. Charlotte Stein-Pick, Afterword	217
Selected Bibliography	219
Index	227