

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION 7 BIOGRAPHIES 26

LITERARY WALKS BY REGION

LONDON

William Wordsworth (1770–1850)

City of London 33

Charles Dickens (1812–1870)

Night Walks 34

Virginia Woolf (1882–1941)

Street Haunting 40

THAMES AND THE HOME COUNTIES

Percy Bysshe Shelley (1792–1822)

To Jane: the Invitation 48

George Meredith (1828–1909)

The South-West Wind 50

Wilkie Collins (1824–1889)

Walk to be Merry 50

Gerard Manley Hopkins (1844–1889)

Oxford 52

David Sharp

The Imprints of History on the English Landscape 55

THE DOWNS AND THE SOUTH COAST

Robert Bridges (1844–1930)

The Downs 59

William Henry Hudson (1841–1922)

Following a River 60

Francis Kilvert (1840–1879)

Stonehenge 60

Wilfred Scawen Blunt (1840–1922)

Chancebury Ring 64

Richard Jefferies (1848–1887)

The Hill Pantheist 64

Eleanor Farjeon (1881–1965)

Walking with D H Lawrence 66

Edward Thomas (1878–1917)

Roads 67

THE SOUTH WEST

Thomas Hardy (1840–1928)

Tess and Angel Clare 70

The Weary Walker 71

THE MIDLANDS

James Elroy Flecker (1884–1915)

Oak and Olive 74

David Herbert Lawrence (1885–1930)

No Trespassers 75

Max Beerbohm (1872–1956)

Going Out for a Walk 78

John Cowper Powys (1872–1963)

Cambridgeshire 79

Ivor Gurney (1890–1937)

Cotswold Ways 83

THE LAKE DISTRICT AND THE NORTH

Dorothy Wordsworth (1771–1855)

Rydale 84

Ullswater 84

Charles Lamb (1775–1834)

Skiddaw 89

Ellen Weeton (1776–?)

Excursion up Fairfield 91

John Keats (1795–1821)

Ascent of Skiddaw 95

Percy Bysshe Shelley (1792–1822)

Letter from Keswick 95

Anne Brontë (1820–1849)

The Sands 99

George Macaulay Trevelyan (1876–1962)

Solitude and Companionship 99

WALES AND MONMOUTH

William Wordsworth (1770–1850)

Ascent of Snowdon 101

George Borrow (1803–1881)

The Road to Bala 105

Francis Kilvert (1840–1879)

Radnorshire 108

Gerard Manley Hopkins (1844–1889)

Hurrahing in Harvest 111

W H Davies (1871–1940)

Days That Have Been 111

Edward Thomas (1878–1917)

Wales 114

Arthur Sidgwick

Organising a Walk 118

SCOTLAND

John Keats (1795–1821)

Lines Written in the Highlands After a Visit to Burns's Country 119

Touring Scotland 119

Robert Burns (1759–1821)

Winter 124

William Hazlitt (1778–1830)

On Going a Journey 124

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS 127