

Contents

Introduction: Processes and Products: Claims, Goals, Risks — 1

Part I Consciousness Studies: Neurosciences and ‘Literature’

- 1 The Transitionality of Consciousness — 15
- 2 Universalism vs. Particularism — 23
- 3 Patterns of Consciousness, Language, Discourse — 31
- 4 James, James and the Structure of Fluctuations — 37
- 5 Neurobiology: Intricacies and Implications — 49
- 6 Dramatic Narratives — 62
- 7 Transitionality and the Obsession with Form — 76
- 8 Existential Impressionism and Cultural Status: Dorothy Richardson (1873 – 1957) — 90
- 9 An Interlude, Or, From Richardson to Richardson — 102

Part II Consciousness and History: Biographical ‘Novels’ and their ‘Liberal’ Extensions

- 1 Biography on the Rebound — 115
- 2 Biographical Patterns, Models of Consciousness and Historical Significance in Dickens — 127
- 3 Diagnostic Power and Practical Relevance: Some Further Steps — 132

- 4 The Pseudo-Freedom of Consciousness and its Cost-Benefit Analysis in the Twentieth Century — 141
- 5 The RAF, a Twentieth-Century Reality Shift, and a Contemporary German ‘Novel’ — 155
- 6 The Drama of ‘Liberalism’ — 164
- 7 What Does Enlightenment Enlighten Us About? — 171
- 8 The Paradox of Liberty and Authority — 185

Part III A Case Study: Chaotic Consciousness and Catastrophic History, Discordant Evolution and Political Overreaction: Oswald and Nicholas Mosley

- 1 Catastrophe Practice: Frameworks and Presuppositions – From Individuality to Scripts — 191
- 2 Catastrophe Practice: Routines – Individuality Manufactured and Medialized — 197
- 3 Hopeful Monsters: Discordant Evolution and Steps towards Mutation — 203
- 4 Hysterical Consciousness and the Beginnings of Institutional
Degeneration in Autobiographical Writings — 210
- 5 The Failure of Rules and the Unleashing of Hysterical Consciousness:
Oswald Mosley and Fascism — 214
- 6 Tentative Conclusions — 219

Works Cited — 221

Index — 232