

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	9
IMAGING SULI. INTRODUCTION	11
Concept and historical background	11
From the turn of the century to the Greek Revolution	11
The Greek Revolution and philhellenism	14
The concept	16
After the revolution	18
Travelers to Epirus and their journeys: a historical overview	21
Review of the legends of Suli	27
Imaging the Suliotes	27
The landscape of Suli	31
Legends of heroes. Lambros Tzavelas and the Monk Samuel	32
Historiographical legends on the fall of Suli: the death of Samuel	35
Crucial contexts: the black legend of Ali Pasha, the cession of Parga and the legend of Markos Botsaris	42
National variants of the legends	44
Legends of Suli in Poland: some remarks on Władysław Tarnowski	46
Layout of the thesis	49
FIRST HISTORIANS AND TRAVELERS TO SULI	51
The specific character of the 19 th -century historical discourse on Suli	51
Theoretical basis, aims and methods	52
Identity of travelers	53
A Survey of the Turkish Empire of William Eton	55
Ideological background and persuasive tropes of Eton's work	55
The dragoman's account	61
Excerpts for a More Detailed Knowledge of Today's Greece of Jakob L. S. Bartholdy	65
Bartholdy as a traveler, writer and historian	65
Intertextual references as a narrative strategy: the topos of Sparta	67
The description of Suliotes and the pattern of the Enlightenment Grand Tour	70
The fall of Suli – the main threads of employment	75

Travels in Morea, in Constantinople and in Albania by François Pouqueville	78
A Parisian historian and imaginary traveler	80
Conclusions	82
 BETWEEN WESTERNIZATION AND ORIENTALISM:
BYRON'S DISCOVERY OF SULI	85
Representations of Suli in English travel poems before Byron	85
Byronic twist	94
Context of the account of John Cam Hobhouse	94
Tambourgi!: the song of the Suliotes	96
Byronic Noble Savages and New Scots	97
Encountering the Suliotes: Byron and Orientalism	100
The influence of Byron's journey	103
Suli versus Paris: the "Nordic" Suliotes of Richard Monckton Milnes ...	104
Summary	106
 GENIUS LOCI – CLIMBING AT SULI AND THE ROMANTIC
EXPERIENCE	109
Perceiving mountains in Romanticism	110
The sublime and the picturesque: Henry Holland and Edward Lear	113
Thomas Smart Hughes' gothic Suli and the ghosts of history	119
Botsaris, Bowen, Burgess and the emotional landscape	123
Summary	126
 SULIOTE WOMEN FIGHTERS IN GREEK FOLK SONGS: THE DIFFUSION OF THE LEGEND IN GREECE AND IN PHILHELLENIC EUROPE		131
Cultural context: the 19th-century models of women's heroism in philhellenic works	131
Women fighters and Greek ethnogenesis	134
Fauriel's songs about Suliote women: the present and the absent women fighters	137
Later elaborations and translations	141
"Moscho... cette femme intrépide": France	141
"Żona Caweli męźnie grodu broni": Poland	143
"Mosco versa tremende ferite": Italy	146

“Mosco’s hood with balls is stored”: England	149
“Η Δέσπω κάμνει πόλεμο”: Despo’s song	151
Conclusions	152
THE DANCE OF ZALONGO AS A THEME OF THE ROMANTIC IMAGINATION	155
Terror and despair: Ary Scheffer	156
Zalongo in a religious worldview: Pouqueville and others	158
Zalongo as a sublime expression of patriotic values	160
Honor and patriarchy: female suicide as act of obedience	164
Felicia Hemans’s Suliot Mother : death as liberation from the female condition	168
Suliot women as Romantic bards	173
Aesthetics of Romantic female suicide: abysses and waters	175
Suicide as union of love and death: Alphonse de Lamartine	177
The dance	180
Conclusions	185
FINAL REMARKS	187
Suli as a founding myth	187
Performing Suli today	190
BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THE 19TH-CENTURY WORKS RELATED TO SULI, WITH NOTES	195
CATALOGUE OF THE 19TH-CENTURY PICTURES, PAINTINGS, ILLUSTRATIONS ETC. RELATED TO SULI	207
INDEX	215