

Contents

Foreword	5
A. Introduction	13
(Bernd Waas)
I. The Notion of Crowdwork and Its Different Forms	13
II. The Extent of Crowdfunding	16
III. Opportunities and Risks of Crowdwork.....	17
IV. Problems Associated with Crowdwork and the Need for Regulation	20
B. Crowdworkers, the Law and the Future of Work: The U.S.	24
(Wilma B. Liebman and Andrew Lyubarsky)
I. Introduction	24
II. The Institutional Setting	28
1. The Workplace Regulation Debate	28
2. The Workplace Legal Regime: From the New Deal to the Present	30
3. The Unraveling of the Postwar Social Compact	32
4. The Data Debate.....	35
III. The Boundaries of the Employment Relationship: An "Ambiguous Dichotomy"	38
1. The Common Law Test	40
2. The Suffer or Permit/Economic Realities Test	44
3. Rulings on Platform Workers as Employees: "Round Holes, Square Peg"?	47
a) CrowdFlower	47
b) Uber and Lyft	48
4. A Note About Class Action Litigation and Arbitration Agreements.....	53
IV. Crowdwork Platforms: Four Different Models.....	57
1. Aggregator: Amazon Mechanical Turk	59
2. Facilitator: Upwork.....	64
3. Governor: Topcoder	69
4. Arbitrator: InnoCentive.....	74

V.	An Examination of Crowdwork Realities and Legalities	78
1.	Opportunities and Risks	78
2.	Legal Analysis: Employee or Independent Contractor?	84
a)	Amazon Mechanical Turk	85
b)	Upwork	89
c)	Topcoder and InnoCentive	93
3.	Platform Accountability: A Joint Employer Analysis?	96
4.	A Note about Platform Legalities	99
VI.	The Debate over the Future of Work in the U.S.	101
1.	Rethinking Employment: An Intermediate Classification?	102
a)	An Intermediate Category in Canadian Law	103
b)	An Intermediate Category for U.S. Law? Pro and Con	104
c)	An “Independent Worker” Proposal and Its Discontents	106
2.	Reexamining the Link between Social Protections and Employment	109
3.	Restoring Worker Voice and Power	115
a)	Emerging Worker Activism	115
b)	Open Source Collective Action: New-Generation Platforms for Voice, Exit and Advocacy in the Gig Economy	118
c)	Bargaining Power for Independent Contractors	121
VII.	Conclusion and Recommendations	127
1.	Sectoral Regulation of Crowdwork Platforms	130
a)	Compliance with Wage and Hour Standards	131
b)	Recordkeeping and Disclosure Requirements	133
c)	Payment Protection	135
d)	Voluntary Initiatives	136
e)	Areas for Additional Study	137
2.	Broader Reforms for the Changing Workplace	138
C.	Crowdwork in Germany	142
	(Bernd Waas)
I.	Legal Status of Crowdworkers	142
1.	Legal Framework: The Triangular Relationship of Crowdworker, Platform and Crowdsourcer	142
2.	The Crowdworker as Employee	146
a)	Concept of Employee in Germany	147
b)	Legal Qualification of Crowdworkers	150
aa)	Relationship Between Crowdworker and Crowdsourcer	150
bb)	Relationship Between Crowdworker and Platform	150

cc)	Platform and Crowdsourcer as (Joint) Employers?	157
c)	Applicable Labour Law Provisions	158
3.	The Crowdworkeer as an Employee-like Person	160
a)	“Employee-like Person”	160
b)	Legal Qualification of Crowdworkers	161
aa)	Legal Prerequisites of “Employee-like Persons”	162
bb)	Applicable Provisions.....	162
4.	The Crowdworkeer as Homeworkeer	163
a)	The Concept of Homeworkeer.....	164
b)	Legal Consequences of Qualification as Homeworkeer	167
c)	Legal Qualification of Crowdworkeer	170
II.	Review of the General Terms and Conditions	171
1.	Scope of Review of General Terms and Conditions with Regard to Crowdworkers	172
2.	Content Review	174
III.	Legal Policy Considerations	176
1.	Homeworkeer Act as a “Model for Regulation”	177
2.	Possible Addressees of Obligations.....	181
IV.	Social Security Protection.....	184
V.	Conclusion	185
D.	Crowdwork and the Law in Japan	187
	(Katsutoshi Kezuka)
I.	Current Situation of Crowdsourcing in Japan.....	188
1.	Features and Types of Crowdsourcing	188
a)	Features of Crowdsourcing and Crowdwork.....	188
b)	Types of Crowdwork	188
2.	Overview of Platforms in Japan.....	190
a)	Rapid Growth of the Crowdsourcing Business over the Last Five Years	190
b)	Representative Platforms in Japan	190
aa)	Lancers.....	190
bb)	Crowdworks	191
cc)	Realworld.....	191
dd)	Crowdgate.....	191
ee)	Job-Hub	191
c)	Platform Types	192

3.	Profile of Individuals Using Crowdsourcing.....	192
a)	Profile of Enterprises Using Crowdsourcing (Crowdsourcers).....	194
aa)	Crowdsourcers Are Mostly Small Companies.....	194
bb)	Advantages for Crowdsourcers of Using Crowdsourcing	195
cc)	Problems from the Perspective of Crowdsourcers	196
b)	Profile of Crowdworkers at Crowdsourcing Sites	196
aa)	Order Recipients Are Mostly Solo Self-Employed	196
bb)	Advantages of Crowdsourcing for Crowdworkers	198
cc)	Income of Crowdworkers.....	198
dd)	Problems from the Perspective of Crowdworkers	200
c)	Summary	200
4.	Legal Structure of Crowdwork Seen from the Terms of Service.....	201
a)	Tripartite Relationship as the Representative Structure of the Crowdsourcing Business	201
b)	Microtasking Crowdwork	201
c)	Competition Type.....	202
d)	Project Type of Crowdwork.....	203
e)	Summary	204
5.	Role and Legal Status of Crowdsourcing Platforms	204
a)	The Role and Business of Crowdsourcing Platforms.....	204
b)	Legal Status of Crowdsourcing Sites	205
c)	Summary	206
II.	The Concept of Workers in Labour Law and the Applicability to Crowdworkers.....	207
1.	The Concept of Workers in Japanese Labour Law	207
a)	Characterising the Discussion on the Concept of Workers in Japan	207
b)	The Concept of Workers in Individual Labour Law	209
aa)	“Use-Dependency” Test as Case Law	209
bb)	New Approach to the Concept of Workers in Individual Labour Law	211
c)	The Concept of Workers in Collective Labour Law.....	214
aa)	“Organisational Dependency” Test.....	214
bb)	“Permissibility of Restrictive Competition” Test.....	218

2.	Applicability of Labour Law on Crowdworkers	219
a)	Applicability of Individual Labour Law.....	219
aa)	Examination based on the Use-Dependency Test as Case Law	219
bb)	Summary.....	221
b)	Applicability of Collective Labour Law.....	221
III.	The Necessity for Legal Protection of Crowdworkers	222
1.	Protection Needs for Crowdworkers as Freelancers.....	222
a)	Profile of Freelancers Including Crowdworkers	222
b)	Protection Needs of Crowdworkers According to Freelancer Type.....	224
2.	Differences in Labour Issues Between Crowdworkers and Teleworking Homeworkers.....	226
IV.	Possibility of Legal Protection for Crowdworkers.....	227
1.	Legal Regulation of the Crowdsourcing Business.....	227
a)	Specific Legal Problems of the Crowdsourcing Business.....	227
aa)	Intermediary Services and Service Fees	227
bb)	Prohibition of Direct Transactions	228
b)	The Need to Revise the OSA	229
2.	Legal Protection for Crowdworkers under Individual Labour Law.....	230
a)	Legal Protection for Crowdworkers as Solo Self-Employed	230
aa)	Target and Areas of Worker Protection	230
bb)	Means of Legal Protection.....	237
b)	Legal Protection of Crowdworkers as Business Operators....	239
3.	Legal Protection of Crowdworkers under Collective Labour Law.....	241
a)	Legal Support for Collective Bargaining	241
aa)	Unfair Labour Practice System.....	241
bb)	Extension of the Employer in Collective Labour Law....	243
b)	Collective Bargaining by Crowdworkers	244
aa)	Possibility of Collective Bargaining with Crowdsourcers	244
bb)	Possibility of Collective Bargaining with the Platforms	244
4.	Labour Supply Business of Trade Unions	245
a)	Current Situation of the Labour Supply	245
b)	Possibility of Labour Supply Business in Crowdsourcing	247

5.	Social Insurance for Crowdworkers.....	248
a)	Social Insurance for the Self-Employed.....	248
aa)	Employment Insurance.....	248
bb)	Workers' Accident Compensation Insurance (WACI)...	248
cc)	Health Care and Pensions.....	251
b)	Social Insurance for Crowdworkers.....	252
V.	Conclusion.....	253
E.	Summary	256
	(Berná Waas)
I.	Crowdwork as Part of the Gig Economy.....	256
II.	The Advantages and Drawbacks.....	256
III.	Unraveling of the Social Compact.....	257
IV.	Crowdwork: Four Different Models.....	258
V.	Are Crowdworkers "Employees"?.....	258
1.	The Notion of "Employee".....	258
2.	Legal Qualification of Crowdworkers.....	262
VI.	Crowdwork: Who Is the Employer?.....	263
VII.	Intermediate Categories.....	264
VIII.	Legal Protection Outside the Scope of Labour Law.....	266
IX.	Legal Reform.....	266
X.	The Task Ahead.....	269
	List of Decisions	271
	Legislation and Regulations	275
	Bibliography	277